One Man's Opinion

By CARL BRIGGS

Downtown Truckee merchants are taking the bull by the bootstraps and pulling themselves up by their own horns, and if that sounds metaphorically like doing it the hard way—well, that's the way they're doing it.

Their progressive attitude is encouraging to see, especially so in a society that is increasingly dependent upon the "government" to support or bail out its people—depending upon whether they are on the way up or on the way down—and the merchants are almost accomplishing the impossible.

You might say they ARE accomplishing the impossible when you stop to realize they got Southern Pacific cooperation in paving their new parking lot—which is on SP property.

These days, if you don't seek or accept a government subsidy of one kind or another you are asking to be branded a radical—some kind of fascist. You are suspected of ulterior motives if you are caught without your hand in the pork barrel. They could have called it a disaster area and done pretty well. Even the local bank is calling it quits, but not the Truckee merchants.

Back some years ago when I was punching cows for found and keep, the beef industry went into a slump and agricultural people from Washington tried everything they could to force federal aid on the cattle business.

To my knowledge, the industry is still free of government subsidies even today, and therefore free of most strangling controls, but it has been a long and hard fight.

Not that the federal government is particularly interested in Downtown Truckee, and Lord knows help could be used, but it's ever so much better if Truckee as a community can do it alone.

It's conceivable that the new parking lot is just a first step and that much more can be accomplished in the future by determination and hard work. The merchants have demonstrated their determination. If the rest of the community will add their support, anything is possible, and the merchants deserve all the cooperation and support the community can give them.

Bob Richards is dead.

With Bob dies a small slice of American journalism that was a strange holdover from olden days and the likes of which will not be seen again.

Bob was Managing Editor of the Virginia City, Nevada, Territorial Enterprise, assuming that position under publisher Lucius Beebe, and Richards and Beebe and Charles Clegg managed somehow to bridge the gap between the harsh economic realities of twentieth century news publishing and the journalistic golden days of Mark Twain and Dan DeQuille and the big bonanza.

Bob had a bit of Twain in him, and some of the Beebe class, but he was mostly his own man—part sailor and part cynic in the desert, he was the sage of Sun Mountain. There is no one else who can describe a walk across the street for a beer in the Delta Saloon and make it a warm and engaging human adventure.

Bob Richards died last week in Virginia City. He was a good man, and I shall miss him.

Edwin Stewart

Funeral service for Edwin F. Stewart, a veteran telegrapher with the Southern Pacific and at one time employed in Truckee, were held last Friday in Sacramento under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge.

Stewart, a member of Truckee Lodge No. 200, F&AM, had been a resident of Sacramento for 65 years and retired ten years ago as manager of the SP telegraph department.

He was a native of Kentucky and is survived by his wife, Evelyn, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Winslow, both of Sacramento and by three grandchildren.

Operator Of First Donner Snowplow Retires

The first snowplow operator to plow snow from the old Donner Summit highway, U.S. 40 (now Interstate 80) in the first winter it was kept open is retiring from the California Division of Highways. He is concluding a 42-year career.

"I was on a rotary plow on the very first snow removal trip over the Summit," said Glenn E. Sweeney of 650 Fifth Street, Woodland. "In the winter of 1931-32 Sam Parks (since deceased) started from Yuba Gap and I started from Truckee and I got over the hill first. We only had two plows to work the entire highway that winter."

It was an historic event. Headlines proclaimed, "Snow Fighters Win Victory on Far-Flung Sierra Battle Line."

"They opened the Victory highway," the report continued, "with more than 200 inches of snow around Soda Springs . . . the fight was made and won . . . It has been a remarkable achievement. Business and pleasure traffic (now) rolling through tunnels of snow makes a picture beyond the register of any camera."

Sweeney remembers that first winter on the mountain top as the highlight of his career.

He is a highway maintenance man and has served in that capacity during the four decades of his working career.

Born in Lakeport, he began work for the Highway Division in 1926 as a laborer. For almost 16 years he worked on the old highway between the summit and Truckee.

Since that time he has worked in the Woodland area and has been promoted several times.

He and his wife have two children; Mrs. Ruth Smith of Oakland and Robert Moore of Truckee. In retirement Mr. Sweeney plans home maintenance, "lots of it."

Fireworks For Donner On Saturday

An aerial fireworks display will be held this year on the west end of Donner Lake on July 6. This event sponsored by the Donner Area Jaycees, Truckee-Donner Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, and Truckee-Donner Park and Recreation District will be preceeded by a boat parade led by "lil toot" a water spouting minaturized tug boat.

This event has been very popular since it was started in 1966 with cars lining up on old Highway 40 the entire length of Donner Lake. Jaycees spokesman said that this years display will be the same as previous years with a few additional aerial salutes.

Hawken Wins

STANFORD, Calif. – Don Hawken of Tahoe City, a sophomore at Brigham Young University, won the Western Junior Golf Championship at the Stanford University Golf Course.

Hawken beat Andy North of Madison, Wis., 4 and 2.

Moore-Conners Wedding Held Saturday In Tahoe City

Cathy Conners became Mrs. Greg Moore last Saturday at a nuptial mass celebrated by Father Leo McAllister and Father Ron Brennan at the Corpus Christi Church in Tahoe City. Cathy and Greg are both longtime Tahoe residents, Cathy being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Conners of Homewood and Greg being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dinty Moore of Tahoe City. Both are also honor graduates of Tahoe-Truckee High School and were active in student affairs there with Greg being student body president in his senior year.

The marriage ceremony was an especially beautiful one with Dan Conners, brother of the bride, serving as elector and Ed Conners, another brother of the bride, and Mike Bechdolt, cousin of the bride, serving as altar boys. Andreé Crehan of Pasadena, aunt of the bride, was soloist.

Cathy, who was given in marriage at the double-ring ceremony by her father, was becomingly attired in a short white bridal gown and she wore a mantilla which was trimmed, as was her gown, with lace. She carried a bouquet of white daisies and yellow and white carnations.

The wedding party included Anna Marie Conners, sister of the bride, as maid of honor; Colleen Conners, sister of the bride, as junior bridesmaid; Gabriel Ferris of Pasadena, cousin of the bride, Julieann Partelow, of Reno, cousin of the bride, Bunny Board of Soda Springs and Terry Vaughn of Tahoe City as bridesmaids. Attending the groom were Gene Smitty Smith of Tahoe City as best man; Dick Nielsen of Tahoe City, Larry Lindsey of Agate Bay, Don Bury of Tahoe City, Art Waddell of Kings Beach and Ed Hoff of Glenridge as ushers.

The bridesmaids' gowns, all of yellow trimmed with white lace, were all fashioned by Cathy's mother as was the gown of the bride. Greg's mother hand made the ties of the groom, best man and ushers. Cathy's grandmother, Mrs. Anna Crehan of Pasadena was a special guest at the wedding.

A champagne buffet reception was held at Idlewild Estate immediately following the wedding ceremony and a very large group of friends and relatives attended. Music for the reception was provided by Greg Hill and Ken Silva.

After a wedding trip to Mazatlan, Mexico, the young couple will reside in Tahoe City until fall when they will both attend school at Chico State College.

Tahoe City Fireworks On The 4th

The Tahoe City Volunteer Fire Department is preparing for it's annual 4th of July Fireworks Display which will be presented Thursday, July 4th, at dusk. The location of this spectacular is at the Tahoe City Commons, behind the fire station.

This is an adventure to be enjoyed by the whole family, whether you remain in the comfort of your own automobile, watch from the beach, or drift off shore to your boat.

The Tahoe City Volunteer Fire Dept. will operate refreshment stands and members of the department and their families will collect donations to help defray the cost of the fireworks display.

Bring your families, and friends to the show of the year at the north-end of Lake Tahoe.

David W. Fry

Funeral services were held June 25 at 1 p.m. in Truckee Mortuary chapel for David W. Fry, 65, a resident of Truckee the past 15 years, who died June 23 following a brief illness.

Buriel was in Truckee cemetary. A native of Oklahoma, Fry had been employed as caretaker at Richard Joseph ranch east of Hirschdale during his residence here.

He is survivied by two sisters, Miss Rehy Fry of Wichita and Mrs. Delma Tray of Forest City, Ark.

Nevada County Chamber Seats New Officers

Ralph Friedrich, Nevada City, was installed president of the Nevada County Chamber OF Commerce at a dinner meeting held Friday night in the Lake of the Pines Country Club.

More than 75 persons were present to see Superior Court Judge Vernon Stoll install Friedrich and other officers and directors.

Harold Nye, out going president, presented awards and outlined the accomplishments of the past year.

Director Kenneth Casper received the president's award for outstanding service. It was based on Casper's "diligence, foresight, and perfect attendance."

A certificate of merit went to Mary Lou Steger, a former director, who Nye described as a "guardian and backbone of the chamber in its formative year."

The news media was saluted for its contribution to the successful operation of the chamber.

R. Peter Ingram, publisher, accepted the honor for The Grass Valley Union, and Patric Ryan, Nevada County Nugget and Union photographer, accepted a plaque for The Nugget. Jon Engelenner, represented the Sacramento Bee and Ruby Nobles accepted for Channel 8.

Nye's list of chamber accomplishments included reduction of freight rates within the county, representation at three fiars and two boat shows. He said publicity generated by the chamber in the past year had brought Nevada county to the attention of more than four million people.

Friedrich promised continued and increased promotion of the county in his acceptance speech. He said "Let us know what you want and we will do our best to help."

Leonard Gilbert, a director, served as master of ceremonies, and the Rev. Donald Royer of Trinity Episcopal Church gave the invocation and benediction.

New officers are Friedrich, president, Jack Ellis, vice president; Larry Farrell, treasurer.

Directors installed Friday were Fred Conway, Leonard Gilbert, Jerome Gray, Earl Covey and Leonard Luglan. Holdover directors are Casper, Coy Miller, Willis Perry, Dave Rose, Ivan Tofft, and Nye.

Supervisor Lou Hartman led the pledge of allegiance.

Clampers Honor Old Chinatown

The Clampers are coming.

Chief Truckee Chapter, E Clampus Vitus, will congregrate Saturday, July 13, in Truckee for the purpose of honoring and dedicating a plaque in old Chinatown.

Activities will include a parade, dedication, initiation of Poor Blind Candidates, and a huge barbecue at Prosser Lake.

The parade will commence at 1 p.m., the barbecue at 2:30.

Power Sale Reported On Donner Summit

Sierra Pacific Power Co. has entered into an agreement with Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to sell Sierra's Donner Summit electric facilities.

District Manager Frank Giovannoni said about 137 customers in the Donner Summit area near Lake Van Norden would be affected by the sale. The territory involved is in Nevada and Placer Counties.

W.D. Laughlin, PG&E's Drum division manager, said if the sale is approved by the California Public Utilities Commission, his company intends to construct some additional facilities in the area to serve an increasing population.

Giovannoni said the sale will not increase rates to customers in the change area.

Thomasbergs Announce Plans For Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Thomasberg of Dollar Point have announced the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Shaun Diane, a recent graduate of Tahoe-Truckee High School, to Ronald W. Park of Incline Village. The wedding will take place at the United Church of Christ, Squaw Valley, August 4 at 1:30 p.m.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Park, of Provo, Utah. A reception will be held immediately following the ceremony at the Squaw Valley Inn. The couple plans to make their home at Crystal Bay.

Truckee Sanitary District Considers Construction Bids

The Truckee Sanitary District opened construction bids on June 25, 1968, for Phase II of the Donner Lake expansion program, which is the interceptor line running the length of the north side of the lake. This project has been split into two contracts in the hope it can be completed during the construction year 1968.

Low bidder for the east interceptor line was Kirkwood-Bly Construction Company of Santa Rosa with a bid of $358,205. This line starts in the vicinity of Summit Creek and ends near Lock Leven Lodge.

The west interceptor line low bid was received from Syblon-Reid of Los Banos in the amount of $587,471 and starts about Lock Leven Lodge and continues east to George's Shell and Highway 89. These two lines will then connect to the existing line that runs to the treatment plant east of Truckee.

The contract awards cannot be made until the bids are reviewed by the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration and the Economic Development Administration, who are the participating governmental agencies which are providing the district with 80 per cent grants on the project. Hopefully, the awards can be made at the next regular meeting of the Truckee Sanitary District on July 2, and construction of the lines will commence no later than mid-July.

The South Donner Lake Trunk Line is presently being constructed by Helms Construction Company of Reno, and when completed will connect at Summit Creek to the North Donner Lake Interceptor Line and will complete Phase II of the construction program.

Other bidders on the North Donner Interceptor Line were:

Van Der Meer, Brown Winners

INCLINE VILLAGE – Two members of the Tahoe Racquet Club's summer camp won the Class A doubles title in a mixed doubles tennis tournament held here over the weekend.

Linda Van Der Meer and Jeff Brown of Berkeley, defeated Jack and Donna Meyers of Stockton, 6-3, 6-3.

A San Francisco tandem, Susan Roach and Don Bering, won the B title, defeating George Sellinger and Barbara Buxton, 6-2, 6-2.

Ken and Rudi Rodts of Sunnyvale overcame Lou Bartolini and Mary Ann Hanley of Mill Valley, 6-0, 6-2.

Another mixed doubles tournament is scheduled at the club sometime this fall. Teams from California, Nevada and Washington were entered in the one just completed.

CAP Joins In Carnival Fun

Ta-Vad-Hoe Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, has announced their participation in the big July Fourth Carnival being sponsored by Tahoe City Optimists at the Safeway parking lot.

More than 75 prizes have been donated to the squadron for raffling at the carnival, the proceeds to be used for purchase of search and rescue equipment.

Drawings will be conducted every hour for such prizes as wigs, champagne, dinners, steaks, hams, gift certificates, sport equipment, and other valuable items.

The patrol will also offer seaplane rides on the Fourth at the rate of two cents per pound.

Advertising Executives Hold Conclave At Lake

More than 200 newspaper advertising executives and their wives, from California and Nevada newspapers, held their 43rd annual convention over the weekend at the Lake Tahoe Hotel in Incline Village, with their organization, the California Newspaper Advertising Executives Association, presenting top honors for general newspaper advertising excellence to three dailies and two weekly papers.

Winners in the general competition were: Palo Alto Times, dailies over 30,000 circulation; Salinas Californian, dailies between 15,000 and 30,000; Inland Empire Daily California under 15,000; Palos Verdes Peninsula News, weeklies over 20,000; and Cupertino Courier, weeklies under 20,000.

The group started their three–day convention at Harrah's South Shore Room Thursday, viewing the dinner show featuring Lawrence Welk and his orchestra.

Other activities included golf at the Incline Course, a barbeque hayride at the Ponderosa Ranch, a bus trip to Virginia City, free time to enjoy the beauty of Tahoe, and seminars held by outstanding men in the advertising field.

Officer and convention chairmen were: Dick Holst, president, (Contra Costa Times); Forrest (Bill) Johnson, vice president and convention chairman, (Burlingame Advance Star); Zack Horrell, secretary, (Antioch Daily Ledger); Jack De Figueiredo, treasurer, (Redwood City Tribune); and Al Conton, convention co–chairman, (Reno Newspapers, Inc.).

Ladies Club Hears Raggio

Fashion–minded women from the North Shore were treated to an unusual event when guest speaker William Raggio, district attorney of Washoe County and candidate for the U.S. Senate, became a fashion coordinator and commented on his own attire at the annual fashion show held by the Republican Women's Club of Incline Village and Crystal Bay.

The Incline Racquet Club was the scene of the fashion show luncheon, featuring clothing from Joseph Magnin's of Crystal Bay and the Pro Shop at the Racquet Club.

Models included: Virginia Hoyt, Frances Hayman, Dorothy Beck, Billie Carlock, Jeanne Van Wetter, Trinkie Watson, Audrey Rivard, Darlene Osborne, Leslee Mullard, Pam Mares, Laurie Plunkett, Twyla Clotfelter and Dave Armocido. Artis Clotfelter coordinated and commentated the show.

Mr. Raggio was accompanied to the event by his wife, Dottie. Club President Joy Plunkett said, "Bill made lots of friends this afternoon, mastering a situation that would have made many other men ill at ease."

SUNBEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

The Truckee Lions Club has earned the thanks of the community for financing the installation of new trash containers which have been conveniently placed throughout the business sections of town. If these new, attractive green and white containers, which will be maintained by the sanitary district, are used as they should be, the streets and sidewalks can be kept tidy and present a more pleasing appearance.

Still another great improvement, and one which should be greeted with joy by those who have found parking in the downtown section of Truckee extremely difficult, is the hardtopping of the parking lot adjoining the main fire station. This achievement was accomplished through the cooperation of the merchants of the affected community and is a real worthwhile improvement.

While on the subject of improvements, we don't want to overlook the many new gold and black street intersection signs which were installed by the county road crew. These metal markers will serve a good purpose and are welcomed by the community.

Continuing warm, dry weather is creating a real fire hazard in the forests and with a four–day holiday just ahead, with thousands of vacationers in the area, we cannot be too emphatic about the necessity of preventing a fire from starting. Even a small spark, a cigarette carelessly tossed from a car or an abandoned camp fire could, in a matter of minutes, become a raging conflagration. Have fun, but be careful with fires over the Fourth. Remember the admonition of Smokey the Bear — only you can prevent a forest fire.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, Sierra Sun:

We realize it takes "some doing" to keep up with all the different addresses we've had in the past two years. Will appreciate your changing our address again . . .

Always enjoy receiving our Truckee paper! Especially appreciated the pictures in the June 12 edition.

Sorry about all the moves, but do continue sending our "home town" paper!

Bob and Arlene Roth
Blythe, California

PS — It's a small world. Our neighbor here in Blythe used to live in Truckee—the former Roni Schuler. She is married to Kit Dean, a state engineer, and they have an active two–year–old son. Her parents now live in San Diego.

(Editors note: We hope you continue to get your paper, too. We have had some circulation problems lately with change–over to a new addressing and handling system, and to you and all of our subscribers who might miss a paper or two, we say please be patient. We'll have the bugs out of the procedure as soon as possible. Thanks for the newsy letter.)

Editor, Sierra Sun:

I fear for the day that gun possession would be limited to those who obviously harbor hatred for anyone who looks or acts unlike "Mr. Everyday American" or belongs to a so–called lower socio–economic class.

And when these armed men see Communists behind every tree, and conspiracy in every act of government, or speak of the American Civil Liberties Union as "the opposition," then there is no question that we are disarming the wrong segment of our society.

It is obvious that meaningful gun control would exist only when total global disarmament is effected. A step in this direction would be a re–channeling of a certain $70 billion budget allowance into something constructive rather than destructive.

A famous gun lover once said: "Why of course the people don't want war. Why should some poor slob on a farm want to risk his life in war when the best that he can get out of it is to come back to his farm in one piece? Naturally, the common people don't want war. . . . But after all, it is the leaders of a country who determine the policy, and it is always a simple matter to drag the people along, whether it is a democracy, or a fascist dictatorship, or a parliament, or a Communist dictatorship. Voice or no voice, the people can always be brought to the bidding of the leaders. That is easy. All they are being attacked, and denounce the pacifists for lack of patriotism and exposing the country to danger. It works the same in every country."

That bit of homespun philosophy compliments of Hermann Goering. The point, of course, is that the type of government really doesn't matter. What does matter is the type of men you have running it.

LEONARD CLOTFELTER

Clotfelter Is Promoted

Sergeant Leonard D. Clotfelter of the Placer County Sheriff's Substation in Tahoe City has been promoted to lieutenant and transferred to the main office in Auburn.

Clotfelter has been at the substation for the past three and one half years, and for three years has been second–in–command of the station and plain clothes investigator.

The transfer for Sergeant Clotfelter is effective on July 1, and his wife Artis and their three children will follow immediately following the sale of their Tahoe Vista home.

DAVID RICKERT

David Rickert New Sergeant At Tahoe City

Placer County Sheriff William A. Scott has announced the promotion of Deputy David W. Rickert to patrol sergeant of the Sheriff's Office substation at Tahoe City.

Rickert, a '57 graduate of Tahoe Truckee High School became a deputy in November of 1963, after serving in the U.S. Navy and being manager of the Tahoe City Shell station.

An Agate Bay homeowner, Rickert and his wife, Bunny, have three children, David, Kathleen and Donald.

Incline Party Interrupted

Advised that a party was in progress in an Incline Village apartment, Washoe deputies raided the place shortly after midnight Thursday and took into custody five girls and six boys on suspicion of possession of narcotics paraphernalia.

Booked in Reno were Lavonne Jeanette Brey, 18; Maryan Jo Karwan, 18; Jeanne Marie Reid, 18; Michele Susan Bougie, 18, all of Kings Beach, Steve Brand Struss, 21; Patrick Scott Tiller, 20, both of Incline Village; and Gene Arthur Williams, 20, Grass Valley.

Four others were juveniles and were taken to the juvenile hall in Reno.

White, Tonini Win Tourney

Top honors at the Tahoe Lions Club annual one–club golf tournament last week were won by Carson White and Eldon Tonini. The match was played at Ponderosa Golf Course in Truckee.

White won low net with a 39. He scored 50 for the nine holes, including taking an 11 on one hole. Charlie Fink and Robert Bowers finished two and three in the net standings.

Tonini grossed a 43 using a five–iron all the way. Angelo Besio was two strokes behind Tonini and one strike better than Bob Siebold.

Dave Rose was the guest's flight, posting 45. Neut Frates was second with 46.

Federation Favors Park In Tahoe City

Of interest to the Lake Tahoe Area is the action taken at the California Federation of Women's Clubs Summer Kick–Off Conference held recently in Fresno at the Del Webb Hotel. Mrs. Edward D. Wylie of Glendale, newly elected president, presided at the three day conclave.

The motion adopted was "supporting the Tahoe City Woman's Club and Sutter District, California Federation of Women's Clubs and their stand with the Tahoe City Recreation Association in requesting control of 64 acres of Bureau of Recreation Land to develop under local control for year–round recreation for both resident and tourist children and youth."

Boys Apprehended

Two Sacramento boys, ages 14 and 16, who had been missing from their homes for five days, were apprehended by Truckee sheriff's deputies last week and returned to their parents.

Owners Of Aircraft Pay Damages When Crash Causes Forest Fire

The U. S. Government has collected a total of $176,000 from Santa Monica Flyers, a company engaged in air charter services with headquarters in Santa Monica, California, for the cost of suppressing the Sespe Fire on the Los Padres National Forest in Ventura County, the U. S. Forest Service reported today.

The U. S. Department of Justice filed a complaint against the company in the U. S. District Court at Los Angeles on August 10, 1967, claiming that negligence caused the Sespe Fire. The court action resulted in the payment of $176,000 to the U. S. Government by Santa Monica Flyers. Federal and State laws provide that a party who negligently sets, causes or fails to control a fire is liable to the party who sustains damages from such a fire, including the cost of fire suppression.

The Sespe Fire occurred as a result of the crash of a light plane operated by Santa Monica Flyers on August 23, 1964. The fire burned 356 acres within the Los Padres National Forest. Both occupants of the plane were killed.

Due to the extremely rugged terrain and inaccessibility of the fire area, several days were required to control the fire. More than 600 men of the U.S. Forest Service, including specialists from Montana, Oregon and Utah were used on the fire. All men had to be ferried in by helicopter. Numerous air tankers were used to assist the ground crews. A complete fire camp, including fire fighting tools, food, cooking and other necessary equipment were dropped into the roadless area by parachute.

The fire was located within the Sespe Condor Sanctuary, an area set aside to protect the nesting sites of the near extinct California Condor.

J. W. Deinema, Regional Forester for the Forest Service, issued a plea today for everyone to use extreme caution when in the National Forests or other wooded areas. All indicators point to the strong possibility of a severe summer for wild fires. Our nation cannot afford such waste.

Chappie Is Encouraged By His Welfare Bill Reception

Assemblyman Gene Chappie said today that he is "very encouraged with the support he has received for his proposal Assembly Bill 1590, which would place a ceiling on County Welfare expenditures thereby lowering the property taxes throughout the State by some $155 million dollars."

Chappie is having amendments prepared to AB 1590 which would limit the share of property taxes earmarked for welfare spending and leave the rest of the expenditures to be met by state financing.

Chappie further pointed out that "under his legislation no county in the State will ever have that "under his legislation no county in the State will ever have greater tax liability for welfare expenditures increase in counties throughout the State of California."

Under the Chappie plan, which is being strongly supported by the California Taxpayers Association, the State would make a grant to each county of welfare costs up to the equivalent of a 15 cent tax rate. Counties would then bear the full cost of welfare for the next 20 cents of the tax rate. The second part of the proposal calls for the State to pick up all county welfare costs over the 25 cent tax rate equivalent.

In addition to providing for uniform tax relief to every county in California the measure makes it easy for these counties to determine almost exactly what their welfare budget will be for each fiscal year. For the first time in the history of California, counties will bear a tax share for welfare according to their ability to pay.

"It is high time, stated Chappie, "That we stop passing the buck back to the counties every time the Federal Government decides by some whim to restrict the welfare program." "The counties of this State are fedup with having to accept the burden for every State or Federal shift in Welfare spending."

"It is my intention," concluded Chappie, "to immediately sit down with the Administration and leaders of the legislature to see if my legislation cannot be passed swiftly through the legislature and signed into law by the Governor." "I am certain that this measure will staisfy all factions who sincerely want property tax relief for the people of the State of California."

The Chappie bill has passed out of the Assembly Social Welfare Committee and will now come up for consideration by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

Under Assemblyman Chappie's bill, AB 1590, the eleven counties of the 6th Assembly District will receive the following amounts of money in State financing to replace current county expenditures in the welfare budget:

Alpine	$ 18,883
Amador	73,470
Calaveras	70,272
El Dorado	401,056
Inyo	222,676
Mariposa	44,774
Nevada	159,288
Placer	513,776

"Champagne Flight to Fashion" will be the theme of the Women's Club of the North Shore's annual fashion show and luncheon to be held July 17, Wednesday, at the North Shore Club. Betty Scoglund of "Be My Guest" KOLO-TV will be the commentator assisted by Jeanne Baxter of ATA Travel Bureau, Sparks. Gerry Cross is chairman of the show this year for president Judy Thatcher.

H. E. "Mac" McCoskey of Incline Beach and Crystal Bay Club owner, attended the Shoshone Indian annual trap shoot at Sun Valley, Idaho, this past week. He participated in the Nugget Golf tournament at Hidden Valley Country Club in Reno prior to the trap shoot.

Mac advises the club is serving hor de ouvres with double cocktails from four to six o'clock. Charles Gould and His Satin Strings are an added attraction to the club -- a great gain for Tahoe and a loss to Reno fans of Chuck. The Novelites are also back this season to entertain patrons.

Happy birthday to Florence Murphy of Crystal Bay and Mexico. Florence celebrated June 25, at the North Shore Club with husband, Harold, Inez and J. C. Jordan, Russ Farley and son, Jimmy Hume.

Pauline Fleming has moved from Sacramento to Reno. The move will make it possible to visit daughter, Gwen Wood, and son, Jack Farris, at Incline Village, along with their families, more frequently. Driving over Donner wasn't always feasible when she wanted to visit the family.

Many thanks to Benny Lassoff, Tommy Hill and Bob Peccolle of the Lake Tahoe Hotel who said "Be Our Guest" to Betty Scoglund of KOLO-TV's "Be My Guest" and Bethel Van Tassel. A marvelous evening of dining and getting acquainted along with a gorgeous sunset view of Lake Tahoe was greatly appreciated. Carol Mercer of Incline Beach planned to join the diners but the boss wouldn't let her out of her "cage" — too, too busy!

Tommy says the employees all have their fishing poles and go fishing during their breaks—where else is one able to work and go fishing at the same time? If the fishing continues to be so great maybe the menu will feature fresh caught Lake Tahoe fish!

Harry Riddle of Kings Beach was a busy person during the filming of the Bonanza series. He was representative for the company to select extras. The picture will be shown about the first week of October and was written by Michael Landon, "Little Joe" -- "Sound of Death."

Location was on the McKinley Ranch near Truckee and at Incline. Further filming is planned in September.

Chef Paul Adamco of the Crystal Bay Club again catered the food on location as in previous years.

John Gangi came up from Los Gatos with his father, Anthony Sr., aunt, Mary Tripoli, and joining them were Eleanor and Mario Giovanzana, Lucille Gangi, Jo and Les Bricca, Eleanor and Addio Lazzaretti, Lee and Tom Savasta, Charles Watson, Stan Bunch and Ken Ziegler.

Marie and Red Gangi and children, Rosalie, Anthony and Val, are at their Tahoe home from Santa Clara, as are Nancy and Peter Gangi at their Tahoe home.

Donna Vial June Bride

A 1909 Cadillac was the picturesque conveyance used Sunday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Tona Ray Smith (nee Donna Jean Vial) from the first congregational Church in Stockton to their reception site, the Stockton Inn.

The young newlyweds rode in the handsome antique car owned by his uncle, Robert D. Toney of Hollister, after exchanging marriage promises at 3 o'clock. The Reverend James Hutchison of the United Methodist Church of the Mountains at Truckee performed the service in the presence of more than 300 guests.

Following the reception and dinner, which included dancing to music by The Foursome, Mr. and Mrs. Smith used the vintage vehicle as their "getaway car." They left for a honeymoon in Hawaii, where they will visit the islands of Kauai and Maui.

They will return to reside in Tahoe City, where the bride is a teacher and her husband is general engineering contractor of Alpine-Smith Construction Company of Truckee.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Vial of San Bruno, former Stocktonians, are the bride's parents. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Smith of Truckee also former Stocktonians.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Vial wore a floor-length gown of linen trimmed with venise lace. A Dior bow of linen and lace held her elbow length veil and she carried a shower of white butterfly roses and phalaenopsis orchids.

Both the bride and her husband are graduates of Stagg High School in Stockton, although they did not meet until she began teaching in the Tahoe-Truckee Unified School District.

The former Miss Vial was graduated from the University of California at Davis, earned her elementary teaching credential at Chico State College and has been working for an advanced degree at the University of Nevada. She is a part-time sailing instructor at Lake Tahoe and has also taught skiing at Alpine Meadows.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Delta College, is active in the Donner Junior Chamber of Commerce and belongs to the Sierra-Nevada Rescue Group, the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association and the Truckee-Tahoe Hi-Flyers.

The Tahoe City Optimists say that their fourth annual Fourth of July Carnival which will be held Thursday at the Safeway parking lot in Tahoe City will be the best one ever. It will go from morning 'til night, with time out for the fire department fireworks, and the highlight, of course, will be the awarding of the special prize of a 1968 Mustang. The two previous winners of the car have been Truckee residents, Carroll Maynard and Lauren Russell.

There will be many events at the carnival, ranging from pony rides, cake-walking contests, ball pitching, Optimist dunking to ham 'n bacon wheels, and other games. There will also be a variety food and beverage booths.

Bring the whole family, it will be lots of fun. Proceeds from the affair go to the Optimist youth fund which, among other things, provides a scholarship to a graduating senior of Tahoe Truckee High School.

Blanche Myer Winner Of Elsie's Tournament

Carl Bechdolt of Tahoe City was host last Wednesday at his Tahoe City Golf Course at a special event, "Elsie's Tournament," with women golfers from Tahoe City and the Auburn Valley Country Club participating in the special tournament.

Blanche Myer was low scorer in the first flight and winning second and third place honors were Del Train and Marvin Fleming, who is an honorary member of the Auburn Valley group. First place in the second flight was won by Pam Hackley with Marilyn Fugazi and Billie Finnegan winning second the third place honors.

Golfers from Auburn participating were Jackie VanMetre, Jean Scott, Marie Jones, Virginia Fleming, Del Train, Gladys Crandall, Esther Mikkelsen and June Schmidt.

Open Firehouse

The North Lake Tahoe Fire Protection District (Washoe County) will be holding their open house at the Incline Fire Station this coming Saturday, July 6, between the hours of 10 and 4.

Fire Chief Jack Kissinger has issued an invitation to all interested persons to come and inspect the building and the equipment, including a new resusitator purchased for the district by the Fire Sirens.

Wives of the regular and volunteer firemen will serve as hostesses.

We attended the Nevada County Chamber of Commerce second annual installation Friday evening at the Lake of the Pines clubhouse. In our group from Truckee were: Jack and Mike Ellis, Zeph and Majel Rose, Dave and Shiela Rose. Jack was installed as vice president and Dave as a director.

Carson will be installed soon as president of our local Chamber and has invited the county group to meet up here in the near future.

As a candidate for supervisor, Zeph knew several in attendance from all of the districts of the county.

The lower elevation lake was a lovely sight in the warm evening, but we did feel sad that one of their big pines was dead and being removed limb by limb, and they don't have that many that it won't be missed. Too bad we couldn't replant some from here.

The Nevada County chamber display has won an award in Los Angeles and will be seen in many of the fairs and boat and sports shows this year.

* * *

There will be a meeting of the Donner Lake Property Owners' Association this Saturday at 1 p.m. on their beach at the west end.

Fred Hodder will speak about the sewers, Carson White about the chamber during the business meeting.

Hot dogs and beer will be served after the meeting, reports Des Wirth, president.

The beach is in fine shape after the recent cleanup.

Don't forget that fireworks will be set off at dusk near the west end of Donner Lake Saturday evening. See you all there; bring the kids for this annual event.

Happy Fourth.

THE CRYSTAL BAY CLUB is target for loads of fun and talent when the fabulous Jets open on July 10 in the Stage Lounge at the Crystal Bay Club on the north shore of Lake Tahoe.

Popular North Shore Club Celebrating Twenty Years Under Same Ownership

Still under the original management and ownership, the North Shore Club Hotel at Crystal Bay is celebrating its 20th anniversary this year. Over this span of years, the North Shore has expanded its dining room three times, enlarged its casino and bar, adding a cocktail lounge and a beautifully appointed hotel, all of which are now being taxed to their capacity, so great has the patronage grown during the decade just past.

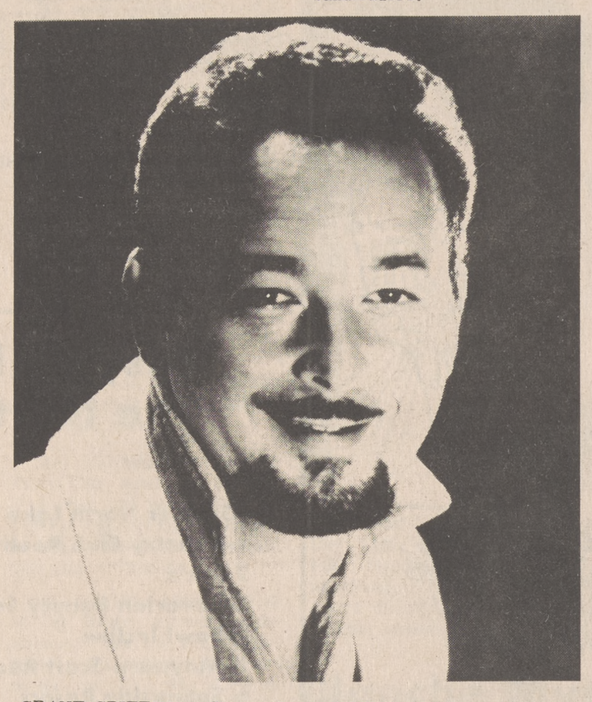
The management announces that only a few more days remain for dance-lovers to trip the light fantastic to the tantalizing tunes of the "greatest little band in the land," as the popular Lenny Herman and his music men leave the North Shore Club Hotel after July 3.

Also on the entertainment program at the present is a pair of outstanding trios of national renown, John St. John and Charlie Blackwell, who have been annual favorites of the North Shore. They will remain until the popular night spot closes in October.

With the commencement of this year's summer season, the North Shore Club Hotel embarks on a new and different entertainment policy which brings two great band leaders to the podium to provide superb music for both the dinner crowds and the dance lovers.

Under this new policy, starting July 4th, the celebrated George Liberace as well as the beloved Ted Fio Rito and their bands return to the North Shore. These two fine musical aggregations along with the John St. John and the Charlie Blackwell Trios will provide uninterrupted entertainment from 8 p.m., to dawn every night of the week.

The populace of Lake Tahoe and Reno as well as the Nation have thrilled to the melodic renditions of both Liberace and Fio Rito thru their years of personal appearances in the country's leading hotels and night spots not to mention their records and radio and TV appearances. Their delightful arrangements and broad repertoire of old and new songs sets their music apart from all other bandleaders.



GRANT GRIFFIN — Singer Grant Griffin is the star of the exciting all-new "Vive Les Girls" revue now being staged nightly at North Lake Tahoe's Nevada Lodge. Griffin boasts a fine lyric baritone, and has appeared on Joey Bishop's television show in addition to co-starring in musical comedies with Shirley Jones and Jane Powell. "Vive Les Girls" is a potpourri of adult entertainment featuring the world's most beautiful showgirls.

OH, BOY, LOOK AT 'EM EAT! Delighted Chef Paul Adamco, a ten-year veteran in the spotless kitchen of North Lake Tahoe's Crystal Bay Club, grins with justifiable pride as he watches the cast and crew of NBC-TV's Bonanza series dig into the special meal he supervised for the occasion. The party was co-hosted by the Crystal Bay Club and the Garni Motel, in honor of the completion of filming in this area.

Summer Library Programs Under Way In Placer County

Summer Library Programs sponsored by the Mother Lode Library System are underway in Placer County and according to Mrs. Marjorie Blodgett, children's Consultant for the System, attendance at the programs is very high.

Boys and girls who ride their Summer Library Trains are looking forward to two special programs. In addition to weekly stories and films, each library will have the opportunity to present a puppet show and play based on fairy tales.

The puppet show, "The King's Birthday" is an original story conceived and performed by Will Sanborn and Phyllis Boorinakis.

The "Fairy-Tale Tellers" will present the play, "The Artistic Pig" and the fairy tale "Rumplestiltskin." In the group are Ellen Arden, Kathy Higgins, Janet Raymann, Linda Reymann, Val Vogel and Peggy Wilson.

Libraries participating in the summer programs include Roseville Public Library, Auburn-Placer County Library and the following branch libraries; Applegate, Colfax, Dutch Flat, King's Beach, Loomis, Penryn, Rocklin, Sheridan, and Tahoe City.

'Vive Les Girls' Spotlights Big Nevada Lodge Weekend

Well into its summer-long run, the all-new, adults-only continental revue is a fast-paced potpourri of the world's most beautiful showgirls and talented performers. Master showman Frederic Apcar has pulled all the stops this year in bringing to Nevada Lodge the most spectacular of all "Vive Les Girls" productions.

In addition to the exciting array of showgirls in daring production numbers, Apcar is starring male vocalist Grant Griffin. Griffin is known to national audiences through his appearances on the Joey Bishop television show, plus co-starring roles in musical comedies with Shirley Jones, Jane Powell and others. His lyric baritone voice and powerful stage presence make him a modern-day Mario Lanza.

Starring on the feminine side is singer Line Turner, a dazzlingly beautiful Australian girl whose footlight magnetism has captivated audiences on three continents.

As always, producer Apcar has created some of the most dramatic all-girl dance numbers ever presented at Tahoe. For 1968, he has brilliant costuming (or lack of it in most cases), daring choreography, fresh themes — and above all, the most strikingly beautiful girls ever to walk the boards.

"Vive Les Girls" is staged nightly in the Topaz Room at Nevada Lodge, nestled on the unspoiled shores of North Lake Tahoe. Holiday guests are treated to the excitement of Nevada-style fun plus the stage extravagenza at night.

Critics laud Apcar's "Vive Les Girls" as having the sensational excitement of a Parisian Follies, the jolly humor of an American circus, and the polished talent of a continental nightclub revue.

In addition to the girls-girls-girls production every night, Nevada Lodge also presents dusk-til-dawn lounge entertainment. Currently sharing the spotlight are the Link Trio and the Gary Sinclair & Mary Petite duo. Both rank among the favorite acts on the Nevada circuit.

"Vive Les Girls" will appear nightly at Nevada Lodge through September.

Frank Sutton, co-star of the "Gomer Pyle—USMC" series on the CBS Television Network, was honored as Headliner of the Year by the California Newspaper Publishers Association last week at a banquet marking the conclusion of the group's annual three-day convention at Stanford University.

Summer Figure Skating School Starts At Squaw Valley

The school is sanctioned by the United States Figure Skating Association, also giving permission for the weekly ice shows on Wednesday nights at 7 p.m., and the official tests given twice during the summer school session.

Jimmy Grogan's staff includes his wife Barbara Grogan-Wagner, the 1960 Olympic Gold Medal winner at Squaw Valley in the pair competition (together with her Canadian partner Bob Paul), Skippy Baxter, the former Sonja Henie partner from Santa Rosa, Shirley Winters from Los Angeles and other guest staffers to be announced later, among them Tim Brown, the former U.S. champion.

Jimmy Grogan, twice member of the U.S. Olympic Figure Skating Team (1948 and 1952) won the bronze medal in the 1952 Oslo Winter Olympics, and toured the world later as star of the famous Ice Capades.

Jimmy founded the Squaw Valley Summer Figure Skating School three years ago, and the school has grown rapidly in importance as the skating center in the West. The year after Olympic competitions is a period of the "Changing of the Guards" in the skating world. Champions and Olympic medal winners retire or turn professional, making room for the upcoming young skaters throughout the world to contine where they left off.

Rick Inglesi, 19, of Freemont, California, the United States Junior champion in the pairs and freestyle, is one of the hopefuls here in Squaw Valley this summer, training for the coming skating events in the senior class. Rickey earns his stay in Squaw Valley as a life guard at the Olympic Village.

Debbie Lauer, 16, Sacramento, a promising junior, will spend all summer in Squaw Valley to study under Jimmy Grogan and skate pairs with Rick Inglesi in the shows.

Karen Magnussen, 16, of Vancouver, Canada, is another young skater who will be in Squaw Valley in August, has already competed in the 1964 Winter Olympics in Grenoble, France, where she placed fourth in freestyle and seventh overall.

Many other junior skaters from all over the U.S. are going through the long hours of practicing compulsory figures on the ice of the Olympic Ice Arena, polishing their freestyle performance and music, and finally loosening up and gaining experience by skating before crowds during the Ice Shows here in Squaw Valley.

Public skating every day at Squaw Valley's Olympic Ice Arean, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.

First Ice Show Set For July 3 At Squaw Valley

The first weekly ice show featuring young skaters from all over the United States and Canada, in Squaw Valley attending the third annual Squaw Valley Summer Figure Skating School, will be held on Wednesday evening, June 3 at 7 p.m. at Blythe Arena.

The school, sanctioned by the United States Figure Skating Association, will hold the weekly shows and also give official tests twice during the summer session.

Attending the school and preparing for senior class events is Rick Inglesi, 19, Fremont, California, U.S. junior champion in pairs and freestyle. Karen Magnussen, 16, a competitor at the Grenoble Olympics, is expected to be at the school in August.

Jimmy Grogan, twice member of the U.S. Olympic figure skating team, bronze medalist in the 1952 Oslo games, and former Ice Capades star, will direct the school assisted by his wife Barbara Wagner Grogan, 1960 Olympic Gold medal winner in the pair competition, and Skippy Baxter, a former partner of Sonja Henie.

Public skating will follow the show at 8 p.m.

Call For Help

A cry for help has been heard from directors Pat Vanni and Dave Stollery of the "Belles and Beaux of '68," the big variety show scheduled for mid-October. They need talented entertainers.

Persons interested in singing, dancing, specialty acts, stage design, lighting, playing in the orchestra, or just taking part in a worthwhile community project are urged to get in touch with one of the directors.

Auditions and practices are scheduled to commence in July.

Smorgasbord Feed for Kings Beach Methodist

Kings Beach United Methodist Church will hold their annual Smorgasbord Dinner at the church on July 7, from five to eight p.m.

This is an annual fund-raising project of the church. A donation of $2.50 for adults and $1 for children under 12 is asked for the dinner, which will include ham and turkey as the main dishes.

Today's Chuckle

An optimist is a father who will let his son take the new car on a date. A pessimist is one who won't. A cynic is one who did.

Novelties In Final Week

The Novelites, one of the most successful comedy-with-music groups on the nightclub scene today, are working their final week in the "star spot" in the Stage Lounge at the Crystal Bay Club on the north shore of Lake Tahoe. Alternating with the Novelites is the exciting and fast-moving show, Action Faction.

The Novelites present a variety of talents, designed to appeal to all age groups and to all tastes. The show is fast-paced and unpredictable. One moment the group switches from romantic ballad-type music to outlandish slapstick comedy, then just as suddenly switch back to serious instrumentals.

Frankie Carr is the mugger of all muggers, as he twists his rubber face into zany contortions which send the audiences into gales of laughter. Chuck Leonard combines his side-splitting comedy with a great vocal talent. Joe Mayer is the amiable straight man of the group, doing a marvelous job of playing the perfect foil for the wacky comdey of the other two. The Novelites display extraordinary musical talent . . . Frankie on the accordion, Chuck on the guitar, and Joe on the bass fiddle.

Action Faction continues to blaze the trail in a new approach to entertainment. Their show is fresh and vibrant with three lovely girls portraying hits from the gay nineties to the naughty twenties, or going all out into our modern space age with wild and imaginative dances. Four talented musicians and vocalists back up these delightful creatures, bring the house down with unique renditions of songs long forgotten.

Providing delightful music in the Crystal Steak House and Crystal Dining Room is Charles Gould and his Satin Strings, who serenade patrons with a variety of musical numbers from 8 p.m. till 2 a.m.

COUPLE MARRIED — At home in Sacramento after their wedding trip to southern California are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Herbert Cobble; the bride is the former Karen Alean Henry of Tahoe City, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Henry, Jr. The grooms parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cobble of Osceola, Iowa. The couple was married at St. Nicholas Episcopal Church of Tahoe City.

Reveal Results Of Survey Conducted By Gene Chappie

Assemblyman Gene Chappie (R-El Dorado) today announced the results of a questionnaire which he sent to his constituents.

Chappie said that the questionnaire was sent to approximately 50,000 homes in the Sixth Assembly District. Chappie represents eleven northern counties in the State . . . the largest number of any Assemblyman. They are Placer, El Dorado, Yuba, Amador, Inyo, Mono, Calaveras, Alpine, Nevada, Mariposa and Tuolumne Counties.

The following are the percentage results of the questionnaire which was returned by more than 10,000 people.

With regard to the disposition of the $150 million dollars which had been set aside for tax relief by the 1967 legislature increasing the State sales tax . . . the results were evenly divided between giving these monies directly to local school districts to reduce their tax rates, and giving these funds directly to cities and counties to provide overall property tax relief at their discretion.

On a question as to the feelings of constitutents on the Medi-Cal program . . . the following results were noted:

Question: Medical spending is excessive and should be drastically reduced. Yes – 69% No. 31%.

Question: Present level of spending and scope of the program is desirable and no cutbacks or reduction should take place. Yes – 71% No. 29%.

Question: In order to reduce costs, a fee structure for doctors' bills should be established. Yes – 91% No-9%.

Question: Only the medical indigent should be considered for this program. Yes – 62% No- 38%.

Question: The entire medical program should be abandoned for plans of privately financed medical insurance. Yes-28% No – 82%.

In a series of queries on whether public employes, school teachers, and school district employes should be allowed to enter into bargaining agreements, etc., the following questions were posed:

Question: Strikes by public employes and school teachers should be allowed except in those cases where national security is involved . . . 17%

Question: Strikes by public employes should be allowed without exceptions . . . 3%.

Question: Public employes and school district employes should not be allowed to strike . . . 35%.

Question: Public employes should be allowed to negotiate with their employer and enter into a collective bargaining agreement and, generally, enjoy the same rights now available to unions . . . 43%

Question: Public employes should not have the right to bargain collectively nor negotiate conditions of employment . . . 8%.

Regarding California's year-old "Implied Consent" law requiring suspected drunken drivers to submit to blood, breath, or urine tests, overwhelming support was shown . . . 73% recommended retention of the law while only 27% recommended repeal.

The following question was asked . . . "Would you favor shortening the length of time between primaries and the general election? Yes – 61% No. 39%.

On the age-old question of having a State withholding system for personal income taxes, the answers were evenly divided between constitutents in Chappie's eleven mountain counties with 50% of those answering favoring withholding and 50% being opposed.

Another very controversial item with regard to the charging of tuition at state colleges and universities . . . the question was "Would you favor tuition if combined with liberal scholarship or loan provisions?" 64% favored charging tuition, 31% opposed the suition charges while 5% remained undecided.

A final question on minimum wage laws for farm workers was asked . . . 68% favored extending the federal minimum wage law to farm workers, 24% opposed enacting a state minimum wage law to cover farm workers and 8% were undecided.

Chappie Notes Research Due On Welfare

SACRAMENTO – Assemblyman Eugene A. Chappie, R-Cool, chairman of the Assembly Social Welfare Committee, announced approval by the Assembly Rules Committee of contracts for field research on welfare services and administration.

The studies will be part of a major review and analysis of the California welfare system now being conducted by the Social Welfare Committee.

"The members of the Assembly Social Welfare Committee have unanimously agreed that the Legislature must take the initiative in coming up with substantial revisions of the present welfare system," said Chappie. "We have decided to grapple with the basic issues of the welfare problem and develop new approaches to solutions."

"Existing laws on welfare have been amended and modified and patched so many times over the last 30 years that the programs seem to have drifted away from their basic objectives," continued Chappie. "We have watched the mushrooming of a huge bureaucracy which grinds inexorably on, consuming tax dollars for administration at an alarming rate, while dependency continues to increase."

"This committee is under mandate from the Assembly to recommend a 'model welfare program' to the next Legislature. The contracts unanimously approved by Rules Committee will produce the hard facts we need to form our policy recommendations," Chappie said.

One of the field studies, to be conducted by Planning Research Corp. of Los Angeles, will seek to find out how the mechanics of determining elegibility for welfare can be streamlined to reduce costs while improving speed and accuracy.

Another study will undertake to determine the relevancy and effectiveness of social services being provided to recipients by county welfare departments. Social Psychiatry Associates, of San Francisco, will do the field research.

Both studies will take a critical look at the way personnel are being used in administering welfare, and will attempt to assess the value of present welfare programs relative to their costs.

LEGAL NOTICE

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF NEVADA
No. 15588
NOTICE OF COMMISSIONER'S SALE ON FORECLOSURE
THE CHARTERED BANK OF LONDON, a corporation,
Plaintiff,
vs.
DARYL F. HUTCHINS, et al.,
Defendants.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the above-entitled Court, by its judgment in the above-entitled action, rendered on April 26, 1968, and entered and recorded on May 8, 1968, in Book 65 of Judgments, page 6, appointed me as Commissioner to sell and ordered me to sell the real property in Nevada County, California, described in Exhibit A, attached hereto and made a part hereof by reference.

At 10 a.m. on July 12, 1968, at Nevada City, California, I will sell the above-described property or as much of it as shall be necessary to raise a sum sufficient to pay the expenses of sale, and the judgment in the sum of $168,304.57, and costs and interest thereon to the date of sale, to the highest bidder for cash in lawful money of the United States of America.

Said sale will be held at the front door of the courthouse in the City of Nevada City, County of Nevada, State of California.
Dated: June 12, 1968
STANLEY HALLS,
COMMISSIONER

EXHIBIT "A"
DESCRIPTION

All that real property situate in the County of Nevada, State of California, described as follows:

A portion of the Northeast Quarter of Section 22, Township 17 North, Range 14 East, M.D.M. Beginning at the most northerly corner of the parcel of land described hereby, being the intersection of the Southeasterly line of U.S. Highway Forty Freeway with the approximate centerline of the South Fork of the Yuba River, and from said point, the Quarter Section corner of the North line of Section 22, Township 17 North, Range 14 East, M.D.M. bears the following two consecutive courses: (1) North 52 degrees 11' 50" East 112.30 feet and (2) North 15 degrees 35' 19" West 1557.30 feet; thence from the point of beginning and along the approximate centerline of the said river on the following four consecutive courses: (1) South 65 degrees 57' 50" East 16.22 feet, (2) South 69 degrees 24' 50" East 60.00 feet, (3) South 66 degrees 17' 50" East 102.20 feet, and (4) South 45 degrees 47' 50" East 400.00 feet to a point on the Northerly right of way line of the old 100 foot wide State Highway, the last mentioned point being distant 110.00 feet Westerly on said right of way line from a point located fifty feet left of Engineer's Station 266 +76.6 of the centerline survey of the said 100 foot wide State Highway; thence South 80 degrees 57' 10" West along the last mentioned highway right of way line for a distance of 762.20 feet to a point on the North-South centerline of said Section 22; thence North 00 degrees 48' 31" West along said Section centerline for a distance of 213.39 feet to a point on the aforementioned Southeasterly line of Highway Forty Freeway; thence along said Freeway line on the following three consecutive courses: (1) From a tangent that bears North 41 degrees 54' 39" East, along the arc of a curve to the right having a radius of 888.00 feet through a central angle of 01 degrees 27' 21" for a distance of 22.56 feet (said arc being represented by the chord of North 42 degrees 38' 19.5" East 22.56 feet), (2) continuing on the arc of a curve to the right having a radius of 888.00 feet through a central angle of 08 degrees 30' 15" for a distance of 131.80 feet (said arc being represented by the chord of North 47 degrees 37' 07.5" East 131.68 feet), and (3) North 52 degrees 11' 50" East 242.81 feet to the point of beginning.

Note: The meridian of the survey for this description is identical with the meridian of the Highway Forty Freeway survey.

EXCEPTING THEREFROM: All that portion of the Northeast quarter (NE 1/4) of Section 22, Township 17 North, Range 14 East, Mount Diablo Base and Meridian, described as follows:

NOTICE OF SALE OF USED EQUIPMENT BY TAHOE TRUCKEE UNIFIED
SCHOOL DISTRICT

Sealed bids will be received, publicly opened and read for the sale of items listed below.

Verrification of the description and condition is the responsibility of the bidder. All vehicles or other property offered for sale "as is and where is", and the Tahoe Truckee Unified School District makes no warranty, either expressed or implied, as to age, state or condition of repair.

Bidders may make offers for one or more items. Bidders interested in purchasing only one vehicle may enter a bid on more than one, indicating preference by numerical sequence as to choice. (Example: 1st choice, 2nd choice, etc.) Choice bidding is limited to automobiles only. A maximum of only three choices for automobiles will be allowed. Bids not numbered in choice column will be considered as an individual bid, and bidder will be required to take delivery of all items purchased. No changes in bids or bid choices permitted after bids are opened.

In addition to price offered, successful bidders will be required to pay any applicable sales tax unless valid resale certificate is furnished. No sales tax will be collected on motor vehicles. Use tax, where applicable, will be paid by the purchaser to the Department of Motor Vehicles at time of registering unit.

Successful bidders will be required to take delivery of items or items purchased and remove same within ten (10) days after notification that their bid or bids have been accepted. Storage costs may be added on items not removed within the ten (10) day period.

No bid will be considered unless it is made up on a form provided by the Owner and accompanied by cashier's check or personal check for ten (10%) percent of the amount of the bid. Balance of sale price must be paid to the Owner before equipment is removed from Owner's premises.

All responsibility of the school district for any property purchased ceases with its release to the successful bidder. All sales are final -- refunds

Incline Village Manager Outlines Philosophy

INCLINE VILLAGE – Great opportunities abound at Lake Tahoe, Don Marek, vice president and general manager of Incline Development Co., told members of the Multiple Listing Service of Incline Village and Crystal Bay in his first public appearance.

Marek observed that Tahoe is wrestling with the philosophy of change.

"Change is inevitable. To many, it is progress, but to some it is not," he said. "We give a lot of thought to philosophy, we value people, we ask questions, we seek quality."

Incline Village will be publicized and promoted on a national basis, tastefully, but aggressively, he said.

"Some of the news on Incline Village is good and some is bad. Some people are misinformed. We plan to conduct a mature and deliberate effort to clear up any misconceptions concerning Incline Village," Marek said.

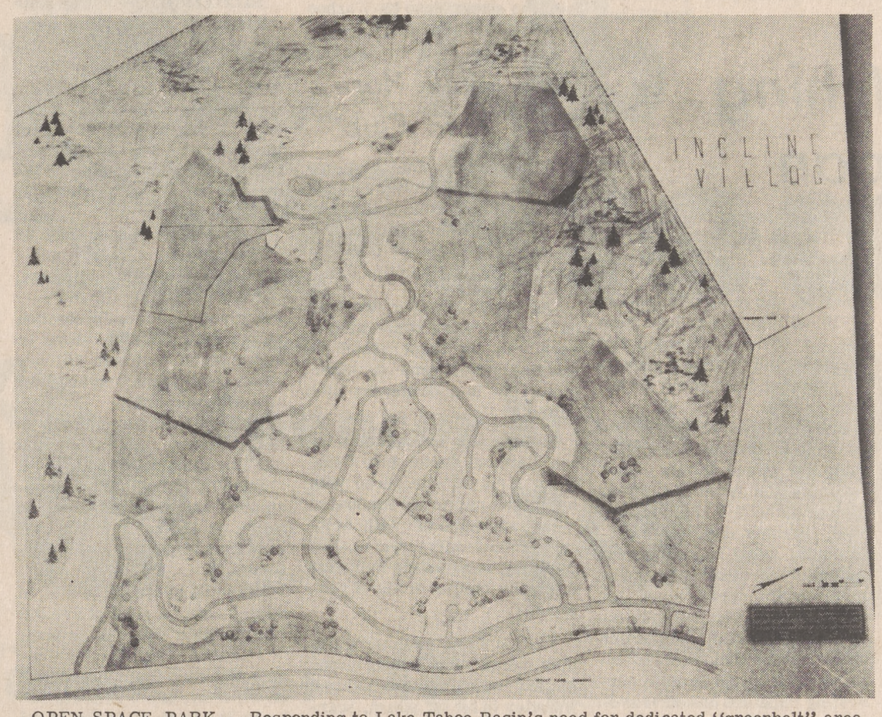
He said his firm plans an institutional advertising program highlight the many community values embraced by Incline Village.

"We will have architectural and environmental controls," he said. "We will carefully and consistently screen new projects, not so much as to impose our own taste, but encourage good taste. We will illustrate good taste and design through our own construction.

"Next spring we plan to start a new golf course. It will be less difficult than our present course and may not require carts. It should be playable by the spring of 1970," Marek commented.

"We are also checking terrain and snow conditions for a new ski area, working closely with the U.S. Forest Service and the Nevada Division of Forestry. Hopefully we can have something started in 1970," he said.

"We plan to have new, tasteful signs throughout Incline in a matter of weeks," Marek concluded, explaining the Crystal Bay Development Co. name is to be dropped.



OPEN SPACE PARK — Responding to Lake Tahoe Basin's need for dedicated "greenbelt" area which must remain undeveloped, the Crystal Bay Development Co. this week unveiled preliminary plans for a 341-acre subdivision adjacent to the Mt. Rose Highway (Nevada Route 27 at bottom of photo) which provided that a full third of the land remain untouched. Above, center, the core area is for cluster development, minimizing cuts and fills; the darker area surrounding the core is 5-7 acre estate lots. Tree cutting is forbidden and the outside area shown with trees sketched in is slated to be dedicated to the Incline Village General Improvement District as open space under an irrevocable deed. It could some day be used for recreation, such as riding and hiking, but no building will be permitted.

Annual Fawn Counts Again At Low Level

The Department of Fish and Game reports winter fawn survival for 1967-68 was about the same as last year, but long-range production and survival trends continued downward.

The DFG said fawn survival was about the same as last year in most units except for several coastal herds which showed sharp increases. Fawn survival for inland herds generally was at or below the level of a year ago.

The DFG said the continued over-all fawn production and survival could result in lower buck kills over the next two years.

Unit wildlife managers of the DFG make herd composition counts in the fall to determine the radio of fawns to does; then again in the spring to determine survival over the winter.

Herds showing increases were the Mendocino herd, the Santa lucia and San Benito herds in Monterey and San Benito counties, and the Adelaida herd in San Luis Obispo County. Slightly improved survival was reported in three Mono County herds.

The DFG said preliminary indications are for good production of fawns this year. Generally, male mule deer fawns born this spring will be forked horn bucks by the fall of 1969; blacktails by the fall of 1970.

DFG wildlife managers said the low production and survival of 1967-68, an over-all average of less than 50 fawns to 100 does, indicates that most of the state's deer ranges are at or above their carrying capacities. Herds on ranges in good condition should average about 70:100 in fawn-doe ratios.

Funds For Sugar Pine

Of the $1.57 million for state building and construction projects in Northern California approved by the Public Works Board, $977,228 was earmarked last week for initial construction at Sugar Pine Point State Park on the west shore of Lake Tahoe near Meeks Bay.

Tahoe Wedding For Sacramento Couple

It was a lovely Tahoe wedding when Ron Andrews of Sacramento claimed Maxine Aaron of Sacramento as his bride at a colorful wedding ceremony held Saturday, a week ago, at the Carnelian Bay home of the John F. Otto's. Officiating at the double wedding ring ceremony was the Reverend Howard J. Abbott of Tahoe Valley.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Aaron of Sacramento while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Andrews, also of Sacramento.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was handsomely attired in a short white gown of organza and lace. She carried stephanotis and ivy. Attendants were Judy Tingey who served as maid of honor and Marty Stitt who acted as best man.

A champagne reception, also held at the Otto residence, was tendered the young couple and was hosted by the bride's parents.

After a wedding trip to Carmel, Fort Bragg and other coast towns, the newlyweds will make their home in Sacramento.

Four Placer County Students To Davis On Scholarships

Four students from Placer County have received scholorships to begin classes this fall at the University of California, Davis.

The recipients are:

Mitchell E. Abbott, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.E. Abbott of P.O. Box 97, Kings Beach. He has received a William W. Stout scholarship and will be a political science major. Abbott is a graduate of Tahoe-Truckee High School.

Elizabeth C. Allison receives a California Aggie Alumni Association scholarship and will be a pre-medicine major. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Allison of Rt. 2, Box 145, Lincoln and is a graduate of East Nicolaus High School.

Jacquelin F. Jarvis, who will be a physics major, has received a Joseph Bonnheim Memorial scholarship. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Jarvix of Rt. 1, Box 1710, Auburn, she is a graduate of Placer High School.

Karole Diane Lamborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lamborn of Rt. 1, Box 1286, Meadow Vista, receives a university scholarship toward her studies in biological science. She is a graduate of Placer High School.

Officers Seek Truck Driver

Officers last week were seeking the driver of a light panel truck which struck and seriously injured Kirk Daurnheim, 13, of Novato as he walked along the shoulder of State Route 89 near Homewood last Monday evening.

According to reports, Daurnheim and a companion, Craig Holding, 15, also of Novato, were carrying a light plastic toy boat as they walked along the shoulder of the road. The injured boy was struck from the rear by the hit-and-run vehicle.

He was taken to the Washoe Medical Center in Reno with multiple head and eye injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ludu of Roseville spent a few days with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ludu at the latter's Donner Lake apartment last week, enjoying the fishing and the cool mountain climate.

July 6 Is Clamper Day At Cal Expo

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—Saturday, July 6, will be E Clampus Vitus Day at The California Exposition in Sacramento.

Cal Expo, the official "Showcase of the Golden State," will open its initial season July 1 and run through Sept. 10, with the traditional State Fair featured from Aug. 26 – Sept. 10.

For ECV Day, a program of excitement, action and fun will be waiting for the black-hat, red-shirt Clampers.

The day's program will include a greeting ceremony from Cal Expo officials to ECV notables. Also included in the program will be the participation of Clamper bands. The James W. Marshall Chapter 49, Hangtown, Alta California Miners Band has issued a challenge to all Clamper bands for a play-off. The winning band will be presented with a suitable trophy.

Other highlights will be a display by the Rose Bud Rifle Brigade, for the Brethren to display their calf-tying ability. The winner of the calf event will be presented with a handsome trophy.

The calf-tying event will be held during the evening performance of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Finals. The college rodeo finals will be held at Cal Expo July 3-7.

ECV Day at Cal Expo will start at 10 a.m., admission is $1.50 for adults, children 6 to 12, $.50, under 6, free.

Lake Tahoe Releases Increased This Week

RENO — Federal Watermaster Claude Dukes this week gradually is doubling releases from Lake Tahoe to meet the irrigation demand downstream on the Truckee River.

Last week Dukes boosted the draw on the lake from the 70 cubic feet of water per second necessary to sustain the fishery below the outlet gates at Tahoe City up to 100 cfs. He increased this another 25 cfs Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and plans to boost the outflow by the same amount of water today to bring the total to 200 cfs.

Dukes, except in extreme emergencies, will not increase Tahoe releases on weekends because higher flows hamper fishermen and other recreational uses of the Truckee.

The elevation of Tahoe climbed to nearly a quarter of a foot from its maximum agreed elevation of 6,229.1 feet above sea level Monday when it reached 6,228.75 feet, but the surface fell back to 6,228.71 Tuesday.

Hotel Hosts Ad Executives

INCLINE VILLAGE – Lake Tahoe Hotel is host to more than 100 California and Nevada newspaper advertising executives and their wives today through Saturday, as the 43rd annual convention of California Newspaper Advertising Executives Association gets under way.

Highlight of the convention will be the annual awards dinner Friday night. Ben Martin, California Newspaper Publisher's Association general manager, will make awards announcements.

George Murphy, CNPA president, will make awards presentations.

Other events on the itinerary include a dinner and floor show at Harrah's Club and trips to the new Ponderosa Ranch and Virginia City.

Saturday evening, installation of officers will be held.

Man Drowns In Lake Swim

A 36-year-old Incline Village man, Jaral A. Carlson, drowned late Tuesday evening, while swimming in the Hidden Beach area of North Lake Tahoe.

U.S. Coast Guard personnel and Washoe County Sheriff's officers recovered the body just off shore.

Carlson had moved to the Incline Village area and had been employed at Barney's in Stateline.

He was originally a native of Portola, Calif.

Forest Service Watching Log Exports To Japan

Regional Forester J. W. Deinema announced today that the Forest Service is closely watching log exports from California to Japan. "If supportable evidence becomes available that serious problems are developing, clearly identifiable with export trade from California National Forests, we will promptly make recommendations to the Secretary of Agriculture that he require primary domestic manufacture. This is not the case at this time," Deinema stated.

Last April Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman instructed the Forest Service to require that National Forest timber sold in western Oregon and Washington be given primary manufacture in the United States. That order exempted 390 million board feet from National Forest timber sales for Fiscal Year 1969. Similar action was taken by the Department of Interior with 50 million feet from Bureau of Land Management sales being exempt in those two states. This action was taken on the basis of evidence of an unreasonable price squeeze, unemployment and mill curtailments due to log exports.

Concern has been expressed in some quarters that foreign export of logs cut from National Forest land in California might assume proportions that would result in a short supply of logs in California. Because of this possibility, Regional Forester Deinema plans to keep a constant surveillance of the situation so preventative action can be taken, if needed.

At the present time, a relatively small amount of logs cut from National Forests is being exported from California. Based on information gathered from lumber companies who are buying a total os some two billion board feet of logs annually from the National Forests, it appears that about 50 million board feet will be exported this year.

Much of the export volume will be small, low value logs with the better grade logs being processed by local mills. This type of export can be advantageous because it encourages the harvest of thinnings and other forest products normally not considered merchantable, thus improving growth and reducing the fire hazards.

Logs cut from the National Forests are currently being exported from five of the seventeen Forests in California. Out of some 250 lumber companies who buy National Forest timber, 21 have indicated they plan to export logs this year. Plans call for export of about 35 million board feet of logs from the El Dorado and Tahoe Forest areas to be exported through the ports of Sacramento and Stockton. An estimated export of 15 million feet of logs from the Six Rivers, Klamath, and Shasta-Trinity National Forests is expected from ports in the Eureka area.

Most of the logs being exported from California come from privately owned lands. Such logs are not under the jurisdiction of the U. S. Forest Service, Deinema said. In the Eureka area small second-growth redwood and other species are being cut from private lands for this purpose. The ability to export this material could enable some private landowners to improve their forest lands by harvesting thinnings and other products normally not merchantable.

Secretary Freeman, in connection with his April directive, stated: "Because existing contracts will not be affected, we expect log exports to continue at current levels for the period immediately ahead. Our expectation is also that lumber exports will increase so that the overall export of forest products will continue to increase. Thus, this action will not adversely affect our balance of payments."

Glad Rags Shop

The Thrift Shop of St. Nicholas Episcopal Church, Glad Rags Shop, announces a change of hours for the summer. The new hours, beginning the first week in July on Wednesday July 3 and on Fridays, are from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

With the change, the Episcopal Church Women have announced that there will be a big sale of the merchandise in the thrift shop beginning with the new opening day of Wednesday, July 3.

The Episcopal Church Women keep a free box of clothes for the needy and for the Indians at Nixon, Nevada.

Felony Charges Filed In Death On Dollar Hill

Felony charges of drunk driving and manslaughter have been filed against a Sacramento man as a result of a fatal automobile accident three miles north of Tahoe City early in the morning of June 23.

Jesse Irvin Vivier, 35, who was first believed to be a passenger in the ill-fated vehicle, was revealed to have been the driver, the California Highway Patrol reported following an investigation. Killed in the accident in which the car went out of control on a curve and crashed into a guard rail was Miles Pulvers, 43, of Cottonwood, Shasta County.

Vivier was arraigned in the superior court of Placer County at Auburn. A third occupant of the vehicle, Elizabeth Seidel, 24, Sacramento, was still in serious condition in the Washoe Medical Center in Reno.

Blow Your Horn Says Auto Club

Without automobile horns to rely on, angry drivers would feel at a loss. What better way to sound off at everybody? But such spiteful use of the horn can threaten life and limb.

Our horns, however, we must have. There are times when a horn can be most useful in warning pedestrians or other motorists in a dangerous situation.

Sensing this need, points out the National Automobile Club, those first on the scene with horseless carriages announced their whereabouts with bells taken from family bicycles. And dingdong, clang-clang they went down the rugged orads of yesteryear.

Around 1900, bells were out, bulb horns in. Daring young swains even blasted exhaust whistles to let off steam, scaring shy maidens out of their wits. Authorities decided that this just wouldn't do, authorized only emergency vehicles to carry such whistles.

No longer able to monkey around with sirens, budding youth of the Roaring Twenties substituted the stimulating "Gabriel Trumpets," the long horns on which they played their pet tunes. About the same time appeared chimes and the Klaxon, which sounded like a keyed-up rooster.

Upset about the resulting riot of noise, communities passed restrictions on the use of car horns.

Hoping to find another solution to the problem, engineers worked, and still work, on developing a horn loud enough but not so loud as to make pulses rise.

Any motorist exercising restraint on the horn helps to lighten the burden.

Commission Studies Permanent Openings

The Fish and Game Commission is considering adopting a policy which would provide permanent opening days for major hunting and fishing seasons as a convenience to California sportsmen.

The commission discussed the proposal at its May 31 meeting and will consider it again July 26 in San Diego.

The proposed policy states: "Where and when practical, hunting and fishing seasons will open on a Saturday. In order that vacations and other plans can be scheduled well in advance, the following are designated as opening dates for the named species and will be adhered to unless there are strong reasons why the commission should deviate or the resource is in danger."

The proposed opening dates, by species are:

Trout—general season, Saturday closest to May 1; northwest season, Saturday prior to Memorial Day.

Deer—early season, first Saturday in August; late season, Saturday closest to September 23.

Pheasant—Saturday before Thanksgiving.

Quail and Chukar—last Saturday in October.

Dove—northern California, September 1; southern California, first Saturday in September except if the 1st falls on the Sunday immediately prior to Labor Day.

Rabbit—early season, first Saturday in July; late season, September 1.

Tree Squirrels—early season, first Saturday in August; late season Saturday closest to September 23.

Special Mountain Quail and Sierra and Ruffed Grouse—Saturday closest to September 23.

Bids Opened On Highway Repair Jobs

SACRAMENTO -- The State Division of Highways is today advertising four northern California projects for bids. These are:

NEVADA COUNTY -- Construct a detour, and reconstruct the concrete deck of the Hinton Road Undercrossing on Interstate 80, about 7 miles east of Truckee.

Bids will be opened July 24 in Sacramento. A total of $90,-000 is available for the project.

HUMBOLDT COUNTY -- Place rock and slope protection and install piles to shore up embankment on Route 101 between the Fortuna Overhead and 0.2-mile southerly.

Bids will be opened July 24 in Sacramento. A total of $90,-000 is available for the project.

SHASTA COUNTY -- Construct a safety roadside rest on Route 44 about 3.1 miles east of Wilson Hill Road at Shingletown.

Bids will be opened July 24, in Sacramento. A total of $79,000 is available for the project.

TEHAMA COUNTY — Construct metal beam guard rail on the Interstate 5 Freeway between the South Main Street and North Red Bluff overcrossings in and near Red Bluff.

Bids will be opened July 24 in Sacramento. Approximately $46,000 is available for the project.

Kings Beach Man Serves Jail Time

Woodrow Henry Woods of Kings Beach was fined $245 in the Tahoe Judicial District Court on a drunk driving charge. He was sentenced to jail in lieu of the fine and is serving time at $10 per day.

It's that time again, when our friendly old wardens roll up their sleeping bags and lay in a supply of ice, groceries, white gas and tire patches and head into the hills for the first segment of this year's upland game brood surveys.

What they find will probably determine whether we have a closed or open season, and its length, bag limits and time of opening and closing.

The species of small game whose production they will try to measure includes the sage grouse, chukar partridge, valley quail, mountain quail, blue grouse, cottontail rabbit and pheasant.

Their methods of operation vary, depending on which species of bird or animal they are gathering information about and depending on factors of moisture, temperature, range condition and general cussedness of the critter itself—sometimes, totally without rhyme or reason, a given species of bird or animal will react, or fail to react, in a completely unexpected and perverse way.

For example, sage grouse broods are normally censused by a FOGW (often, but not always, complete with dog) who walks and scans with field glasses the sub-irrigated meadows of our high country where all self-respecting sage grouse hens take their chicks after hatching, at this time of year. And yet, once in a while and for reasons known only to the birds themselves, they simply do not come in to these meadows at the normal time. This makes for head scratching, nail biting and profane mumblings from the frustrated OGW who is doing brood survey work in that area and who has only a very little time in which to check a great many locations. And when this happens, time after time in meadow after meadow for a whole week afield, this normally friendly neighbor is likely to go home and kick the cat, make the kids cry and pick a fight with his wife.

This is not the best time for you to thoughtlessly toss an empty beer can out the window of your car if his pickup truck happens to be following along behind.

Chukar partridge brood surveys can be frustrating too but generally these birds are more rational than the sage grouse and they mostly tend to go by the book and do what is expected of them.

If a hen chukar doesn't take her brood of chicks to water along about 9:30 or 10:00 a.m., it is because rain has fallen within the last 40 hours or so or else because we are having a remarkably wet and lush range year and rain or snow has fallen within the past few days.

Chuckars have one complicating tendency and this becomes apparent when one hen chooses just the same moment of time in history to water her brood of chicks as another or maybe two other hens choose to give their chicks a drink. When this happens, brood survey figures can go all to pot.

Chukar chicks seem unable to recognize their mothers and chukar hens can't count. It is common for, say, two or three hens, with a dozen or 15 chicks each, to meet at a water hole or preferred dusting and drinking area on a stream, and to gossip and chit-chat about household matters and the price of cheat grass seed for maybe an hour or two.

Then when these gals decide to get back to the ironing and dusting, the 25, 30 or 45 chicks just go along with whatever chums they happen to be with at the moment and they tag along with whichever hen is nearest.

This means that 3 hen chukars starting with 3 different broods of chicks, can split up to return to their subdivision homes after a back-fence coffee klatch with 2, 3 or maybe even 40 or 45 chicks. So far we don't know just what the reaction of papa, the seed winner of the family, is about the differing number of hungry mouths at the table each night, but daddy chukars must be pretty tolerant birds.

This habit accounts for the widely varying numbers of chukar chicks seen in different broods, 'tho of course predation and other natural loss factors play their parts, too.

Mountain quail broods are counted at the same times and same general areas as chukars, for they usually occupy about the same habitat.

Be Especially Watchful For Children While On The Road

The extra hour of daylight afforded by daylight savings time means that youngsters will be out playing later in the day. Drivers will have an increased responsibility for watchfulness.

The evening hours of late spring and summer encourage longer neighborhood ball games and bike riding with their warmer temperatures and unaccustomed daylight. For many children, especially small children, it's been a long winter and they now have the freedom of playing outdoors alone or with only an occasional check by parents, says the California State Automobile Association.

The AAA motoring organization reminds drivers to stay alert for chased baseballs and shadowy bike riders at dusk at the side of the road. This is also the time for parents to consider rules for outdoor play.

Need Some Safe Driving Tips?

With the snow now gone from the high mountain passes across the Sierra Nevada's, many motorists will be making trips to mountain areas. Three parts of the automobile drivers will be vitally concerned with in this type of driving are the brakes, sterring mechanism and tires, says the California State Automobile Association.

To ensure a safe, efficient braking system, brakes should be checked periodically for thickness of lining, amount of brake fluid, and for adjustment. If repairs are required, have them made by a reliable mechanic who uses highgrade brake lining, fluid and parts.

One danger of mountain driving is brake failure. Prof. Amos E. Neyhart, AAA consultant on driver education, suggests the following steps to take if your brakes fail descending a steep grade:

– Use the parking brake as quickly as possible.

– Shift to a lower gear in order to get the braking action from the engine.

– Pump your brake pedal up and down fast; this sometimes restores some braking power.

– If the road ahead is fairly straight, you can sometimes ride it out.

– If none of these work, turn off the ignition.

– Try to remain calm and look for a steering path that will check your car's forward motion, such as hedges and fences; sliding along roadside guard rails, stone walls, curbs, and banks.

These emergency procedures will damage your car, but chances are you will come out alive, and quite possibly uninjured if you are wearing your seat belt.

It's too bad that mankind isn't, freeways aren't and die-hards don't.

Seniors Slow To Use Law's Benefits

SACRAMENTO — Only 30,000 California senior citizens have taken advantage of the Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance Law to date, according to Martin Huff, executive officer of the Franchise Tax Board.

This is 15 per cent of the total of 200,000 claims which were expected to be filed, he said. Apparently, many believe that filing is complicated, he said, while it really is quite simple.

All that claimants need to do is provide their name and address, their social security number, and list their annual household income on the claim form and send it to the Franchise Tax Board along with proof of their age and a copy of their receipted tax bill.

Huff pointed out that this new law, the Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance Law, neither requires that a lien be placed on the property of claimants, nor does the amount of the reimbursements have to be paid back to the State.

To qualify for property tax assistance, claimants must be 65 years of age, own and occupy their own home, have paid the property taxes for 1967-68 fiscal year, and have an income of less than $3,350 for calendar year 1967.

Information and claim forms may be obtained from any office of the Franchise Tax Board, or by writing to Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, P.O. Box 1588, Sacramento, Calif. 95814. The deadline for filing claims for property tax assistance is Aug. 31.

'Gentle Giant' Frank Howard Turns 'Meanie'

AP Newsfeatures

After eight seasons in the majors massive Frank Howard is learning to overcome the handicap of having the biggest strike zone in baseball. He's thinking positive and now he is one of the most feared hitters in baseball.

"Most pitchers have good control but they make enough mistakes so I can make a living," says the Washington Senator left fielder.

The 6-foot-7 giant of 31 summers twisted a knee last July and says he labored the last half of the year. It might have been the tipoff on Howard because in the final two months of 1967 he hit .291. He looked like he was starting to put everything together.

"Everything" for Howard would mean hitting .296, driving in 119 runs and smashing 36 home runs this season. These are Howard's high marks but never until this spring has he looked so good at the plate.

After his first 23 games he was up with the slugging leaders and batting .321.

"I'll be glad to play 160 games," says the 260-pound Hondo. "A good year for me would mean hitting 35 homers, driving in 100 runs and hitting at least .275. (His career batting average is .269).

"I'm improving defensively in left field and this ought to keep me in the game during the late innings which means I should get more at bats. I'd like to go to the plate 600 times this season.

"That's a figure I've never been able to reach since I came up with the Dodgers in 1960."

The amazing thing about Howard is that he was the fifth best slugger in the American League last season despite a low average and high number of strikeouts.

He batted only .256 and struck out 155 times.

However, as a slugger Hondo trailed only Carl Yastrzemski, Frank Robinson, Harmon Killebrew and Al Kaline. No wonder he held out for more money this spring. Howard's near the $50,000 salary bracket.

Howard reached his home run high last year with 36 four baggers and credits Gil Hodges, who left DC Stadium to lead the Mets, with doubling his home run output of the previous season.

"Gil got me to spread my stance more to keep me from overstriding," says Howard. "It also helped me to keep my head real still. His idea has paid off."

Howard, who used to swing in the batting cages at Vero Beach as though he were trying to drive machine-pitched baseballs through the netting, might still be a Los Angeles Dodger but for a spring argument with Dodger skipper Walter Alston.

One day Alston left Howard back at the training camp while the main squad went to Florida's west coast. Howard didn't like that. And Alston did't like what Howard said.

So the Dodgers, who paid a $108,000 bonus to the former Ohio State basketball star, traded him to Washington in a seven player deal that sent pitcher Claude Osteen to California. That was after the 1964 season.

In 1962 Howard drove in 119 runs on 31 homers and a .296 batting average. He scored 80 times that year for the Dodgers. He reached only one of those figures after Hodges widened his stance. He hit 36 homers last year.

No man in baseball hits a ball any harder or as far as Howard. When Cub manager Leo Durocher coached third base for the Dodgers his favorite spot whenever Howard came to bat was outside the coaching box toward left field.

"He used to hit some terrific shots down that way and I wasn't about to get skulled by one of them," Durocher says now.

Durocher doesn't worry about Howard any longer because Hondo is in his fourth season in the other league.

"I'm hoping this will be Howard's best year," says Jim Lemon. Washington's rookie manager, "because nobody worked any harder this spring."

Drive Right Save Gas $

It's like putting money in your pockets if you drive efficiently.

Saving gasoline, points out the National Automobile Club, adds up to really good, efficient driving. And fuel is money.

Before going any further, know your gasoline. Why show embarrassment in asking your service station attendant about the right grade of gasoline for your high-powered car? With so many different types of vehicles on the road today, there seems to be no other choice.

Without a properly maintained car, no driver manages to perform his maneuvers in the most efficient way possible. Nearly every piece of car equipment subtly affects gasoline mileage.

Cut your motor fuel bills by checking your tire pressure regularly. Out of every 20 gallons of gasoline you buy, one-half gallon can go to waste if you drive with underinflated tires. Spark plugs must also make the checklist, for faulty ones can waste as much as one gallon of gasoline in every 10.

Fans Recall Past Thrills In 'Star Game

On July 9, at 5 p.m., NBC Television and Radio networks will broadcast the 39th Major League Baseball All–Star Game from the Houston Astrodome.

The All–Star series has produced many thrilling moments that are still recalled whenever baseball fans get together.

Following is a brief history of some of the exciting moments of the midsummer baseball classic:

The first All–Star Game was played at Comiskey Park, July 6, 1933. Babe Ruth's third inning, two–run proved the margin of difference as the American League won, 4–2.

Ruth, then 38 years old, also turned in the game's top defensive play . . . Lefty Gomez was the winning pitcher and also drove in the game's first run . . . Connie Mack and John McGraw were the opposing managers.

The American League pulled out a 9–7 victory at the Polo Grounds in 1934 after Carl Hubbell struck out Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Jimmie Foxx (first inning) and Al Simmons and Joe Cronin (second inning). Following Bill Dickey's single, Hubbell fanned Gomez for six strike–outs in two innings . . . An All–Star game record crowd of 69,831 at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium saw Foxx's first–inning, two–run homer pace the American League in 1935, 4–1 . . . Leo Durocher's stab of Joe DiMaggio's two–out, bases loaded line drive brought about the first National League victory in 1936, 4–3 at Braves Field, Boston.

Ted Williams' two–out, two–on homer in the last of the ninth brought the AL a 7–5 victory at Detroit's Briggs Stadium July 8, 1941 . . . Bobby Doerr's three–run homer led the American League to a 5–3 victory in the All–Star Game's first night contest in 1943 at Philadelphia's Shibe Park.

Ted Williams led the American League to the most lopsided win in series, 12–0, in the 1946 game at Boston's Fenway Park. Williams hit two home runs and two singles, walked once, scored four runs and drove in five.

His runs scored, runs batted in, hits, homers and total bases (10) are All–Star Game records . . . Red Schoendienst (this year's NL manager) hit a 14th inning home run to bring the NL a 4–3 victory in 1950 at Comiskey Park in the first extra–inning All–Star Game . . . Last year's game, at Anaheim Staidum, went to the National League, 2–1, in 15 innings.

Tony Perez connected for a home run in the 15th. It was the second successive All–Star Game won by the National League in extra innings by a score of 2–1. The 1966 game, played in sizzling Busch Memorial Stadium, St. Louis, went 10 innings.

The National League has a five–game winning streak alive. Other streaks are four in a row for the AL, 1946–49, four straight for the NL 1950–53 and another four for the NL 1960–62 . . . The All–Star Game has been played at least once every year with the exception of 1945,

School Buses Said 'Safe'

SACRAMENTO – California's public and private school buses last year traveled more than 129 million miles transporting some two million pupils daily to and from school and school activities, and only three persons were killed and 610 injured in accidents involving these vehicles.

"This kind of record, which is virtually no different from past years, is why we call a ride in a school bus the safest mode of transportation in California," declared California Highway Patrol Commissioner Harold W. Sullivan.

Of the three persons killed, two were passengers in vehicles that collided with school buses and the third was a pupil pedestrian. Of those injured, 257 were passengers in buses, 36 were school bus drivers, 31 were pupil pedestrians, and 286 were other vehicle occupants or pedestrians.

Total accidents involving school buses last year were 1,463, but 1,143 did not result in death or injury. There were 10,604 public and private school buses in operation in California during 1967, all of which were inspected at least once during the year by the CHP to assure that they met all the requirements of law regarding safety.

Science In Nevada: Truckee River Part II

Previous discussion has centered on the natural and regulated flow of the Truckee and on measures to control floods. Another important aspect is the quality of the water. In general, quality refers to: (1) chemical substances in solution, (2) small particles of rock, soil, and other debris carried in suspension, (3) acteriologic agents often so injurious to man, (4) and physical qualities of the water such as temperature, odor, and color. Quality is a significant factor in determining the particular consumptive uses to which the water is put, the esthetic value of the water to the recreationist, and the type of abundance of animal and plant life.

Unfortunately, water-quality records for the Truckee are not of as great duration or completeness as the flow records. However, it is well-known that most other rivers show a close relationship between water-quality and flow characteristics, even as possibly modified by man. The scanty data indicate that this is also the case for the Truckee.

Except where influenced by man's wastes, chemical substances in ground and river waters are primarily derived from dissolving action on rocks and soils. Concentration of chemical substances in rain and snow is very low. Concentrations in snow melt and runoff are higher but are typically lower than in ground water. Like snow melt and runoff, ground water is derived from snow and rain, but is relatively high in dissolved substances because of long intimate contact, often for years, with rocks and soils prior to being discharged to the river.

The Truckee in its upper reaches is a mixture of ground water, naturally discharged to the river at a more or less constant rate throughout the year, and snow melt and runoff, the amount varying with the season.

Concentration of dissolved substances in the Truckee is lowest during the spring, reflecting a high proportion of snow melt and runoff relative to ground-water contribution. For example, the concentration of chemical substances is about 70 to 80 parts per million at Farad., (One part per million equals one gram per ton of water. Grains per gallon, a common measure of water quality, equals about 17 parts per million.) The concentration of suspended material is, of course, highest during this period due to the washing-in of soil particles as the snow melts.

Flows and suspended material decline as the melt period ends, leaving the river in a relatively lower and clear condition except for the occasional periods of turbidity during summer and early fall rainstorms. Concentration of dissolved substances increases slightly during this period, water at Farad perhaps averaging about 90 parts per million. This increase reflects longer exposure of the remainder of the spring snow melt to rocks and soil and a relatively greater contribution of ground water to the total flow of the river at that time.

The natural increase in chemical substances during the summer-early fall appears to be ameliorated somewhat by man's efforts to maintain downstream flows. The release of stored snow melt, low in chemical substances, dilutes the river waters which would otherwise consist almost entirely of discharged ground water high in chemical substances. This is an example of man's management, largely unwitting, of quality of the Truckee to what is ultimately a beneficial end.

Flows are low and clear during the late fall-winter and concentration of suspended material is low except for occasional brief periods of snow melt. Concentration of chemical substances is highest during this period, averaging about 100 parts per million at Farad due to the relatively important influence of ground-water discharge.

The temperature of the Truckee is closely tied to weather conditions. Lows are at or near freezing during the winter months. Summer highs range from about 65 degrees fahrenheit in the upper reaches to 80 degrees or greater in the lower reaches where flow has been restricted by diversions.

A future article will discuss variation in water quality with respect to location on the river, the relationship between quality and human use, and present and future quality problems which may affect the use of the river.

New Directory Deliveries This Week

Delivery of the 1968 Lake Tahoe telephone directory, featuring summer and winter landscapes of the Donner Lake area on its cover, began Saturday, June 29.

On the cover of the book, which also serves Soda Springs and Truckee, the Truckee River and Donner Summit are pictured in winter settings, while summer shots depict the Donner Party monument and a view of Donner Lake, as seen from above Interstate 80.

According to Pacific Telephone Manager Jack Domergue, the new directory contains 13,493 alphabetical listings in its 72 white pages section. "Part of these pages are devoted to the 'new look' introductory section," he added, "and will provide customers quick, easy access to local calling data."

The new phone book also contains 16 green and 304 yellow pages, and consumed five tons of white, one ton of green, 20 tons of yellow, and two tons of cover paper in its printing.

Domergue said the company is serving 22,500 telephones in the Lake Tahoe area, 500 more than a year ago.

Delivery of the new directories will be completed by July 3.

Highway 49 Hearing Set

AUBURN – The California Highway Commission will hold a public hearing July 9 on the relocation of a 6.8-mile section of Highway 49 between Cool and Interstate 80 here.

The hearing will be held here at the Placer County Fairgrounds at 10 a.m.

This section of highway will be inundated by construction of Auburn Dam across the American River by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation as part of the Central Valley Project.

The Division of Highways conducted a public hearing on the matter May 2. It presented two routing concepts involving five variations.

State Department Of Harbors, Watercraft Concerned Over Boat Accidents, Drownings

N.W. Sprow, Director of Harbors and Watercraft, announced today with great concern that 42 persons had died while boating in California during the first five months of 1968, a sharp rise over the 30 fatalities reported for the same period last year. Sprow's figures also showed that the State's boaters had reported 68 injuries and $405,000 in property damage from 190 accidents involving 252 vessels.

Thirty-six of the deaths reported were by drowning, 7 from falling overboard, and 29 due to vessel capsizing or sinking. Two deaths resulted from injuries received in high speed racing, 2 from suffocation from fumes inside a cabin, and 2 from being struck by a boat while in the water.

Fatalities were reported from all parts of the state and involved all types of water. Fifteen occurred in offshore ocean waters, 4 in bays, 13 in rivers, and 10 in lakes and reservoirs. The size of craft involved varied from 12 feet to 32 feet, mostly in the 14- to 17-foot range. All but 6 of the boat operators were over 30 years of age. Activities were principally fishing and cruising.

Sprow stated that analysis of the accidents involving death indicated poor judgment, coupled with lack of experience in boat handling, as the principal cause. None could be related directly to violation of boating laws. He cited as an example a 16-foot outboard whose return from ocean fishing was delayed until dark because of running out of gas. As a result of the operator's unfamiliarity with the shoreline, his vessel was capsized in the surf. Sprow gave as other examples a 25-foot inboard cruiser capsizing in the consistently rough waters of the Potatopatch Shoal off the Marin shore; a 16-foot outboard capsizing in surf in the fog off Ocean Beach; a 14-foot outboard capsizing in rough waters in Monterey Bay; and a 21-foot aluminum boat capsizing with 3 persons aboard in rough waters off the Humboldt Coast.

New Paved Parking Lot For Downtown Truckee

Downtown Truckee has a new parking lot, a spanking new expanse of blacktop right on the main street that will provide paved off-street parking for the first time in the downtown business area.

The Downtown Merchants Association, who conceived and promoted the facility, have announced a vote of thanks and appreciation to the following for assistance and support in the final realization of the long sought-for parking area:

Sha-Neva (Pat and Buck Shane, Paul Shively), Teicherts (Mel Chorich), Alpine Smith (Ray Smith), Edward Frates, Don Westbrook, John Collier and sons John and Charles, Charles Carrol of Southern Pacific, Jim Mahon, William Englehart, fire marshal Reuben Maki, John Firpo, Wayne Philippi, Dennis Burroughs, David Curtis, Fred Newcomb, and the Truckee-Donner Chamber of Commerce.

THE HEART OF TRUCKEE — No more beautiful river in the country, and Truckee has both the name and the river; rising in the Tahoe basin and sinking in the Nevada desert, the stream is at its best in the heart of Truckee, as in this view from the bridge. Sun Photo

Savings Bond Sales Up For Nevada County

Nevada County Savings Bonds Chairman Willard J. Rose today disclosed that latest reports of California sales of U.S. Savings Bonds for the year to date are 11 per cent ahead of the same period for last year.

Sales for California for the first five months of this year total $174,266,213.

Nevada County sales for the same period of this year amounted to $101,742. For the same period of last year they were $102,430.

The savings bonds volunteer said:

"Much credit for placing California in the front ranks for sales of savings bonds is due to the dedicated work of the United States Industrial Payroll Savings Committee as it seeks to achieve $411 million in sales for this year.

"New interest rates of 4-1/4 per cent for E and H Bonds and 5 per cent for Freedom Shares should make future sales climb. Also helping sales should be the new ruling that E Bonds may be bought in conjunction with Freedom Shares at banks without joining the Bond-a-Month Club.

"We urge continued emphasis on buying United States Savings Bonds as a means of assisting the strength of the American

Operation Cookie

Operation Cookie, a Nevada County project dedicated to sending goodies to servicemen, is a continuing program, according to local coordinator Ruby Wall, of Truckee.

Nevada County residents with sons or husbands in any of the armed services may submit the names and addresses to Mrs. Wall, and cookies will be sent periodically.

Mrs. Wall also reported that volunteers are needed for the next packing day, July 16, and that donations of empty three-pound coffee cans are accepted, as well as monetary donations.

Operation Cookie is a county-wide non-denominational effort. For further information, call Mrs. Wall at 587-4088.

Announce Placer-Nevada Day For 4-H Kids At Cal Expo

Friday, July 12, will be Placer-Nevada 4-H Day at the new Cal Expo opening for the first time this summer, reports Skip Bolton, Farm Advisor.

Action programs, judging contests, special tours, demonstrations, and talent performances are planned to keep visitors to the 4-H exhibit area on their toes.

A careers exhibit, arranged by a two-county committee will show how 4-H experiences lead to career opportunities. Vocational or academically oriented careers can result from participation in similar 4-H projects and activities.

Head Start classes and families from Placer County have received a special 4-H invitation to participate in 4-H Expo activities. Guided tours will be arranged to take the Head Starters behind the scenes of the giant Exposition complex.

Coordinated by Molly Nelson, the plan has received wholehearted community support and offers many advantages to the groups involved in coordinating and conducting the program.

State Livestock Showmanship finals are set for Friday, starting with swine and followed by sheep, beef and dairy. The Round Robin event will start at 8:30 p.m. to determine the all-round State Showmanship champion.

Weaverville

How does a visit to "The Temple Amongst the Forest Beneath the Clouds" sound to you?

That's the English translation, points out the National Automobile Club, for the Chinese name of the Weaverville Joss House. Located about 50 miles west of Redding, the Joss House is a Taoist temple with symbolic meaning behind its every detail.

Entering the temple through two large doors, you'll immediately run across two false doors or "spirit screens," their placement derived from the Chinese belief that evil spirits can't travel around corners.

Inside stands a very popular exhibit, a push-button horoscope showing the year of your birth and the corresponding Chinese zodiacal sign. Outside the lovely oriental landscaping intrigues the visitors to Weaverville Joss House. Why not visit it soon?

Public Hearing Is Scheduled On Various Highway Routes

EUREKA, Calif. – In a follow up action to its June 10 announcement that it will conduct a public hearing on the relocation of 6.8 miles of Route 49 in El Dorado and Placer counties, the California Highway Commission has formally taken under consideration the various alternate routings developed by the Division of Highways.

This existing highway section between the vicinity of Cool, El Dorado County, and Auburn, Placer County, will be inundated by the future Auburn Dam and Reservoir.

Samuel B. Nelson, state director of public works, said that this commission action was intended simply to fulfill a legal requirement. Before it can adopt a freeway routing, the highway commission must pass a resolution declaring its intention of doing so. Notice of this is sent to involved city councils and county boards of supervisors.

He emphasized that all of the studied alignments, including the one recommended by the state highway engineer, would be presented at the hearing. The recommended routing is in no way binding on the commission, nor expresses a preference by the commission.

State Highway Engineer John A. Legara has favored the alternate which runs westerly from the existing highway south of Cool across the crest of the dam to the Auburn–Folsom Road at Shirland Tract Road, south of Auburn.

From this point it turns northerly as a four–lane conventional highway to existing Route 49 south of the Interstate 80 Freeway in Auburn.

The commission hearing will take place at the Placer County Fairgrounds in Auburn at 10 a.m., July 9. Public officials and interested citizens may attend and assist the commission in making the best choice.

Loyal Dog Stands Guard

A dog's loyalty to his fallen master was never truer in the case of Richard E. Bussan, 55 of Gardnerville, Nev.

Bussan was found dead at the corner of Laurel and Poplar June 22.

His German Shepherd was by the body. The dog refused to allow anyone near his master. Police were called after 20 minutes of trying to persuade the dog to allow the body to be moved.

Bussan apparently died of natural causes. An autopsy report is pending investigation, according to officials.

Bizz Johnson Presentation Of Capitol Art Works Book

WASHINGTON, D. C. —Congressman Harold T. (Bizz) Johnson has presented to each county and college library in the Second, mountain–valley counties, district a copy of "Compilation of Works of Art and Other Objects in the United States Capitol."

"The accumulation of the works of art represents an interesting part of the history of the Capitol which, since the laying of its cornerstone in 1793 by President George Washington has become one of our most important national shrines," Congressman Johnson said.

The 426–page publication portrays many of the paintings, statues, stained glass windows and bronze doors which are in the Capitol, including the two statues which represent California, those of Father Junipero Serra and the Reverend Thomas Starr King.

Toninis Leave Truckee For New Location

Two of Lake Tahoe's old timers, Fern and Bob Tonini left Monday to make their future home at Los Osos near Moro Bay.

Tonini, who had been employed by the Sierra Pacific Power Company for the past 36 years, is a native of Boca and son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tonini, pioneer residents of this area. The elder Toninis have a home at Los Osos near where their son and his wife have purchased a home.

Mrs. Tonini first came to Lake Tahoe 25 years ago and operated a resort for a number of years south of Tahoe City.

Tonini was honored at a farewell dinner given by fellow employes at Crystal Bay Club last Tuesday and will return in October for a company retirement affair, probably in Reno. During recent years, Tonini has been an active member of the Tahoe City Rotary Club and the couple has been active in community affairs.

Fish, Game Restoration Funds Listed

The Fish and Wildlife Service has more than $1,000,000 in federal funds for fish and wildlife restoration projects in California. Congressman Harold T. (Bizz) Johnson, representing the Second, mountain–valley counties, District, said $235,000 has been allocated for fish restoration and $846,499 for wildlife restoration. The funds are from federal excise taxes collected on hunting and fishing equipment.

Rodeo Queen Contest Set

SACRAMENTO – "Miss College Rodeo" will be selected during the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Finals that will be held July 3–7 at The California Exposition, the official "Showcase of the Golden State."

The candidates for this coveted title will be shapely cowgirl coeds who will represent their schools during the rodeo finals.

College cowboys also will be representing their schools– not in the queen contest but in the riding events.

Cal Expo will open its initial season July 1 – Sept. 10, with the traditional State Fair scheduled for Aug. 26 – Sept. 10.

"Miss College Rodeo" contest will have the pretty coeds judged on their horsemanship, appearance, poise, and beauty.

'Drive As Though A CHP Car Was Following Along Behind'

"Drive like you would if there was a California Highway Patrol car following along behind you."

This was the advice given today by CHP Lt. O. P. Ledford on the eve of the four–day Fourth of July holiday weekend.

"I'm just asking that drivers obey the traffic laws this weekend, particularly in regard to speed, yielding the right of way to the other driver, and staying on the right side of the road.

"These are major rules of the road that, when broken, lead to accidents. Besides, if a driver consciously makes an effort to obey these laws he is not likely to violate any others, and his chances of getting into an accident–causing situation are reduced."

Lt. Ledford emphasized that accidents do not happen only to persons who are taking a long trip during the weekend.

"In most cases, the people involved are less than 25 miles from home, and on roadways they are well acquainted with," he said.

Bank Merger Is Approved

Nevada National Bank shareholders and directors have unanimously approved the consolidation of a three bank merger between Nevada National Bank, Bank of Las Vegas, and Valley Bank of Nevada.

Share holders and directors ratified the consolidation agreement

Steps will now be taken for approval of the three bank merger by the Comptroller of the Currency, Washington D.C.

Report HUD Grant

Congressman Harold T. (Bizz) Johnson of the Second, mountain–valley counties, District today announced approval of a $135,103 Department of Housing and Urban Development grant to the State of California. The funds will cover up to 50 per cent of the total cost of a statewide effort of community development training, including pre–service and in–service training conducted by universities throughout the State of California.

"Bring 'Em Back Alive" Slogan For Holiday Safety

It's the Fourth of July holiday and a period of four days in which motorists can take advantage of the open highway for a much needed vacation period.

The California State Automobile Association says, do plan a holiday trip because the open road is for the safe driver to enjoy. Four of every five traffic accidents occur within 25 miles of the driver's home, at speeds of less than 40 miles per hour. Thus it appears more dangerous to make a quick run from home to the store to buy holiday foods, than to travel a modern highway to your favorite shore area.

The stark fact remains, however, that there is a holiday death count. But, good commonsense rules of driving can keep you safe and protect others.

During the Fourth of July holiday period, the CSAA urges you to:

Plan your route in advance, have reservations in hand early.

Show exceptional caution, and courtesy, on the road.

Make a rest stop every two hours.

It is a safe move to plan a trip in detail, know exactly where you are going, how to get there and how long it will safely take, including rest stops. Have your car checked thoroughly to make sure it is in good condition.

Don't overload the automobile with a lot of extra luggage. It is neither safe nor sensible. Remember, loose objects on the rear seat deck can become hurtling missiles with a quick stop. If you use luggage carriers on the roof, make sure they are well–secured and not overloaded. In packing the car, make certain a clear view remains through all windows and there is ample elbow–room for driving. Make sure tires are properly inflated for the heavier load.

On long trips take games and puzzles to keep children amused and away from the driver.

Remember the first and last 25 miles of the trip are the most dangerous.

A trip, the CSAA says, is much more enjoyable — and safer — if the driver is well–rested before leaving. Once on the road, stop to rest at least once every three hours. And once every two hours is recommended by CSAA, especially if children are along.

There is a better chance to "BRING 'EM BACK ALIVE!" if passing on the highway is held to a minimum.

It is more relaxing and safer to maintain a position at the traffic stream rate, remembering to keep a following distance at least of one car length for every 10 miles per hour of speed.

Learn the secrets of beer cookery

Find out how to make delicious everyday dishes with beer—such as beer meat loaf, beer chicken, beer sausages and beer cake. And then there are such gourmet treats as rarebits and Carbonnades Flamandes.

Beer cookery is as traditional as yesterday... as modern as tomorrow. Beer adds a real flavor treat.

MISS ELECTRA knows
summer was meant for fun and fun takes time!

A new, automatic defrosting home freezer saves you shopping time, traveling time, defrosting time and meal preparation time. They are made in all sizes, both chest types and upright.

In addition to saving time, owning an electric food freezer can save you money. Wise shoppers stock up on favorite cuts of meat and packaged frozen foods when the prices are low. The freezer keeps them ready and waiting at your fingertips for when you want them. When prices soar or these items can't be found in the store, imagine the pleasure your electric food freezer will deliver to you.

See the newer model refrigerators and refrigerator-freezer combinations your electrical appliance dealer has. There is sure to be one which suits your requirements to a T!
